

POOL REPAIRS BEGIN. Granite City Park District employees Jack Trittschuh, at the controls, and Mitch Mead begin the tedious task of cutting old grooves from the joints in the bottom of the Wilson Park swimming pool. Regrouting should take about three weeks, weather permitting. Other temporary repairs to the aging pool, necessary before opening this year, could run as high as $20,000.

Warfield to bid for county chairman

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Editor

The Madison County Democratic Central Committee will have a new chairman as of Monday night's convention.

The current chairman, Alderman Christ Costoff of Madison, announced in an exclusive interview with the Press-Record yesterday that he has "decided to back off" and give his support to Granite City Street Superintendent Mac Warfield.

"I'VE HAD enough. I am so aggravated," Costoff told the Press-Record. "I am going to pick the guy to run in my place," he added. Costoff is angry that on March 11, Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk and a group of Democratic precinct committeemen held a meeting at Charlie's Restaurant to discuss new directions for the party and they did not invite Costoff. The committeemen at that meeting also are believed to have discussed asking for Costoff's resignation.

After the meeting, Sasyk denied that he was seeking the party's chairmanship, a position that he repeated yesterday. "I would be very receptive to (supporting) Mr. Warfield. Mac would do a real fine job. I haven't talked to the precinct committeemen yet," Sasyk told the Press-Record.

Costoff plans to step down and back Warfield

Costoff said of the March 11 meeting, "I'm not hiding anything from them. Why should they hold a meeting and not invite me. I have had enough. I've been in politics 50 years."

HE SAID he will throw his support behind Warfield to replace him as county Democratic chairman. "I can't think of a better man," he said.

Warfield said the offer to run for chairman has been made to him before and he decided to accept it this time. "Christ told me a few times that he would step down if I would run. Some people have been calling me and asking me to do it. I called with Christ at 6:30 last night (Tuesday) and it was worked out so fast, I don't want to talk about things until I talk to some people," Warfield noted.

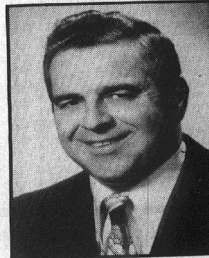

Warfield said he feels the independent wing of the Democratic party, known as DEMCO, can be brought back into the fold. DEMCO includes County Clerk Evelyn Bowles, Sheriff Emil Toffant and County Treasurer Mick Henkhaus, who have not paid for, or asked for, the party's support in recent elections. "I plan to meet with some of them (DEMCO members) today (Wednesday). I think we can bring them back into the party. That's what we've got to do," Warfield commented.

COSTOFF SAID he believes Warfield can win, even if Sasyk changes his mind. "If my people vote with me, Mac should win easily," he predicted. "I invite every man backing me to vote for Mac. I couldn't pick a better man," he added.

"I'm not mad at anybody. I am just disgusted at those who do me like that. Most of all, I'm still a Democrat," Costoff concluded. Sasyk said the only other name he has heard as a possible candidate for party chairman is George Donohoe of the Wood River area. He stressed that he is not a candidate. "I still have the same feelings (expressed in the March 12 Press-Record). I am not seeking that position," he stated.

THE PARTY will hold its annual convention Monday night at the County Courthouse in Edwardsville.

MAC WARFIELD

Selection of a new county chairman will be the top item of business at the convention. All Democratic precinct committeemen elected in the March 20 primary election can vote. Republicans will meet simultaneously in the courthouse to select their party chairman, a post currently held by Dr. Edward Ragsdale of Godfrey.

School tax vote in November urged

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

A tax election in November 1984 to help resolve Granite City schools' financial woes was urged by Supt. B.J. Davis Tuesday night.

The busy session also saw the board vote 4-3 to retain administrators Harold E. Hillmer and Boyd D. McCommis.

ENRAGED at that decision, President David Partney moved to combine the positions of superintendent (Davis) and assistant superintendent (Frank Kraus). The motion died for lack of a second.

By a 6-1 margin, the board honorably dismissed 12 teachers effective at the end of the current school year in June. Most of the 12 are expected to be called back, perhaps by May, as vacancies occur.

The 12 are: Ellen J. Voyles, Webster School learning center; Jacob Varadian, Frohardt lower intermediate class; Barbara J. Varadian, Niedringhaus kindergarten; John R. Svoboda, Parkview middle intermediate; Marjorie A. Schmidt, Parkview middle primary; Marilyn A. Perline, Mitchell upper primary; Nancy R. Orris, Frohardt kindergarten; Brenda J. Keene, Maryville kindergarten; William L. Harris, Frohardt middle intermediate; Sue C. Grable, Niedringhaus middle primary; Sandra S. DeMoulin, Wilson middle primary; Stella R. Davenport, Marshall upper primary.

All those not named are, in effect, automatically rehired for 1984-85. The relatively small size of the dismissal list apparently indicates that most existing instructional programs are to remain intact.

FIRST TO TESTIFY at a public hearing on the state reductions was Supt. of Schools Davis.

He told the gathering, "It is again that time of year when school districts must weigh financial practicalities against educational services."

"This district, while realizing a stop in the continued increase in its indebtedness, has not reached financial stability and will need to continue seeking both expenditure decreases and revenue increases."

"I believe," Davis said, "we have very little room left for expenditure decreases without causing a decrease in the many services we offer to the pupils in this district."

"The reductions in staff to be presented to the board this evening do not allow for any increased services or noticeable reductions in class sizes over those experienced this year."

"ILLINOIS has dropped its direct support to the schools of this state from 48 percent of the school funds to 38 percent."

"In our district, it has dropped from almost 50 percent to approximately 41 percent."

"There have been no offsetting increases in revenue to offset this decline when compared to increased

The 'bear in the air' has to have very strong stomach

By SUSAN SIGNAIO-WEICH
of the Press-Record

A story assignment to go on an airplane flight with an Illinois State Trooper while he was making a speed check on automobiles turned out to be the longest 15 minutes of my life.

I should have gotten my first hint to politely turn down the assignment when I heard "horror stories" from another reporter who had gotten sick while flying in a small plane. But I was determined that I would not get sick and that I would enjoy myself (I hoped).

I ARRIVED at Parks Bi-State Park Airport, Cahokia, at 9:55 a.m.

Thursday, Illinois State Trooper David Jung, public information officer, had said that the plane would be arriving sometime between 10 and 10:30 a.m., so I wanted to be on time. I didn't want to miss my flight.

I received word at about 10:30 a.m., that my flight was going to be late because the crew had gotten a late start. I didn't mind, however, as this gave me plenty of time to contemplate what types of pictures I would take while in the air and what questions I was going to ask the crew.

Unfortunately, it also gave me more than adequate time to contemplate how sick I was not going to get.

WHILE I WAS waiting, I struck up a conversation with one of the men from Midwest Aviation, Inc., who gave me loads of encouragement. First, he asked me if I had ever flown in a small plane before. When I answered negatively, he handed me a small blue envelope with the words "sic-sac" written on it. No further explanation was needed for me to know how to use it.

Second, he gave me several detailed accounts of other persons who had gotten sick on their first flights. Finally, he showed me pictures of

New twist in grand jury's tax probe

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Editor

The grand jury investigation into assessments in Madison County took a dramatic turnaround Tuesday as the primary prosecutor who had been directing the grand jury probe resigned from the state's attorney's office and was appointed a special prosecutor by the courts.

Keith Jensen, assistant state's attorney until resigning Tuesday, alleges in an affidavit to the court that State's Attorney Don Weber had directed Jensen to seek indictments in the assessment case on the Thursday before the Tuesday, March 20, primary election.

WEBER agrees, but says other persons convinced him that indictments five days before the election would appear to be too political, so he targeted March 14 as the date in court dealers should be returned. When court dealers asked for a Board of Review session to reduce their assessments Jan. 30, Weber said he felt that "started the clock ticking, as far as I was concerned."

All evidence was not presented by March 14, so in a meeting last Monday, Weber, Trone and Jensen agreed to try and wrap the grand jury testimony up this Friday, Weber said.

Weber said the case has been pending many months and in December, due to the approaching election, he relieved himself of

Training center at GC school opposed

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Should the former Lake School on East 23rd Street be used as an educational and training center for 10- to 18-year-olds with behavioral disorders, including students who would reside there?

This subject was discussed at Tuesday night's Granite City Board of Education meeting and may be explored further at next Tuesday's City Council session.

SOME EDUCATORS see the center as creating no problem and aiding this region in meeting stricter federal training requirements. Nearby families see it as a threat to the neighborhood.

Other ide facilities also were considered at the meeting, including Nameoki and Emerson schools. A group of local churches wants to lease Nameoki to create a Christian school serving possibly 139 kindergarten through twelfth grade students in 1984-85.

Administrators and pastors are to meet today to develop a detailed Nameoki School proposal for the board to study, possibly at the next regular meeting April 10.

Either party should be authorized to break the lease with a year's notice, Pastor Tom Edwards of the Church of God, 1201 W. Pontoon Road, suggested.

EMERSON WAS SOLD Tuesday night to the Nestle Co., Inc., for $56,000 in a unanimous board vote. The school grounds will become a

Brimberry witnesses helped loot mansion

By PATHAY LUTZ
For the Press-Record

Several witnesses testifying yesterday in the current trial against former Granite Cityan Thomas Brimberry told jurors that they bought excavating equipment from Brimberry or removed and stored light fixtures, stained glass windows and a $25,000 generator from Brimberry's Granite City home after Brimberry had agreed to surrender his assets to the trustee in charge of the liquidation of Stix and Co.

Two of the 10 charges against Brimberry in the trial currently being heard in U. S. District Court Judge Clyde Cahill's court in St. Louis claim that Brimberry attempted to conceal assets from the trustee by selling excavating equipment belonging to Miller Excavating in Granite City and by having individuals remove several items from the Granite City home after the demise of Stix.

BRIMBERRY has claimed responsibility for masterminding the $16 million embezzlement scheme which caused the collapse of the firm.

Joe Holze, a Ford dealer in Salem, Ill., told jurors that he paid $133,600 in cash for several pieces of excavating equipment from Brimberry after he knew that Brimberry was involved in the Stix

Schools seek new ways to measure students' growth

Recommendations that would lead to major reform in Illinois' elementary and secondary schools were presented to the State Board of Education during its regular monthly meeting at the Americana Congress Hotel in Chicago last week.

Establishing requirements for what students should know and be able to achieve as a result of their education, the recommendations were developed by the Board's member committee to Define State Requirements for What Students Should Know and Be Able to Do.

The broadly defined requirements, which are called outcome statements, are designed to replace the current program-related mandates now in the statutes. "Today, for the first time in 150 years, we are taking a major step toward reforming what the state has mandated in education programs. No longer should we focus on time and titles," State Superintendent of Education Donald Gill said.

"The important thing, as these outcome statements show, is to lay out what we expect students to achieve—what is the least that they should know and be able to do as a consequence of their schooling," Gill explained.

The use of outcome statements with handicapped students would be governed by a child's individualized educational plan.

Dr. John Corbally, president and director of the John D. and Catherine T. MacArthur Foundation and former president of the University of Illinois, presented the board with the committee's report.

Instead of the current mandated courses in the statutes, schools would provide courses based upon goals and objectives that are consistent with the outcome statements. Each school district would be required to monitor and measure student achievement.

The local assessment process, which must be approved by the State Board of Education, would provide school officials with a mechanism to identify which instructional programs provide students with the skills they should have as a result of their education.

Schools would be required to report the progress of their students to the public and describe what alterations would be made in programs if student achievement problems occurred.

"The intent of these statements is not to limit what schools do, but rather to define the compelling interests of the state in the outcomes of education. The statements recommended by the committee focus on results that are unique to each of the areas of learning," according to the report.

Gill convened the 85-member committee this past January and gave it the task of developing outcome statements that would represent what the state believes is minimally necessary for an educated citizenry.

The board will review the proposed outcome statements and conduct hearings to seek public input on the proposals. After board approval, the board will seek legislation to replace the current course requirements with the outcome statements.

Bear in the air

the DC-3 air cargo plane crash that happened near Lambert Airport on Jan. 9 of this year.

By this time, I was having second thoughts about the assignment, but the Illinois State Trooper had already shown up.

SERGEANT THOMAS A. Brooks, a pilot in his late 20s, was very cordial. He apologized for being late, but said his usual partner was not flying today. He would be conducting the speed checks alone.

Sgt. Brooks and his partner fly airplanes as part of their job. Brooks said he usually spends five hours a day, five days a week in the airplane. About three of those hours are used to conduct "Bear in the Air" speed checks on the vehicles on interstate highways.

After we talked for awhile, Brooks telephoned the Illinois State Police Headquarters in Collinsville and told them we were ready to go up in the plane and that we needed some ground units to help us catch speeders. Three units were assigned to us.

BROOKS SAID we were ready to go up and I obediently followed him to our plane, a Cessna 182. I clumsily stepped onto the footrest and made my way into the cockpit.

I was just about settled when Brooks told me to buckle my seat belt. "You'll need to put that on, otherwise your head might hit the roof," he said.

I asked him if that was normal (having your head hit the roof). He said that it was very turbulent, with the winds at about 30 miles per hour and coming in gusts. "You'll notice how windy it is when we come in for our landing," he said.

I LAUGHED bravely, but I must not have been too convincing, since Brooks thought it necessary to point out the location of the six-sec. at that time.

"We're going to go up for about 30 minutes, but if you start to feel sick, let me know and we'll come back earlier," he said. "Hopefully that won't happen."

Brooks started the engine and we taxied out to the runway. Despite the bumpy ride, it was kind of fun and I was enjoying myself.

BROOKS RADIOED the control tower and asked for clearance to fly. We were given the OK and Brooks "floored it." Pretty soon we were in the air. The feeling was exhilarating and I noticed myself smiling. This was going to great.

We climbed to somewhere between 1,500 and 2,000 feet, with the wind knocking us around a bit as we rose higher.

"We're going to be clocking cars on Highway (Interstate) 64," said Brooks. He handed me an instrument used for clocking. "You can clock the cars with me if you want."

SOON WE WERE flying over the area where we would be doing our speed checks. "See those two white lines down there? We'll be starting our timing when the cars go past that first line and stopping the clock after they pass the second line."

"Our three cars are up there further. We'll radio them with the description of the car after we clock someone speeding."

Brooks pulled out the log sheet where he would write down the cars and the speed that they were traveling. He would need this information if he had to testify in court.

BROOKS AND I clocked several cars before we found a speeder. Brooks called the information down to the interceptor car, making a turn as he called, to circle back towards the speeder.

The turn was not like any turn I had experienced in a car or plane. We made an extremely sharp turn with the plane at about an 80 degree angle.

I must have turned completely white because Brooks asked me if I was feeling OK. "That turn really got to you didn't it?"

I NODDED my head—I was determined to stick it out. "I'm sorry I had to make a turn like that, but I had to get the description of the car," said Brooks. "I'll try not to do that again."

I looked at the clock, hoping that my time was just about up. I was starting to feel a little bit warm and my head was pounding.

COULD THAT clock be right? If it was, I had only been in the air for 11 minutes. I didn't know if I was going to make it.

I sat with my head back, trying to regain my composure. In the meantime, Brooks caught another car. He again circled to radio the information.

This time I gave in. "I'm getting sick," I heard myself saying. "YOU'D BETTER get out the bag," Brooks said. "I'll head on back to the airfield and we'll get you on the ground."

As soon as Brooks straightened out the plane, I started feeling better. It must have been the continuous circling that had been getting to me. (I never did like going in circles—I always got sick on the merry-go-round at the amusement park.)

The next thing I knew, we were on the ground. The landing was surprisingly smooth—the wind must have let up slightly. But instead of feeling relieved, I felt guilty for putting the trooper through such a hassle.

I APOLOGIZED, but Brooks insisted it was no trouble at all. I unlatched the door and stepped to the ground, my knees buckling underneath me as I tried to straighten my legs.

The trooper escorted me to back to the terminal and I thanked him again. He called on the phone to line up his interceptor cars again and was off in the air before I could get out of the parking lot.

AS I DROVE away, I looked up in the sky for the plane. I was glad to be back in my car, safe and sound. I decided flying in a small plane was not my favorite pastime and that I did not envy Brooks' job at all. Being a bear in the air is not as glamorous as it sounds.

News of Quad-City area servicemen serving in the various branches of the U.S. military includes:

DANNY FAVIER

Attention to detail marks the attitude of the new Marine of the Quarter for the Marine Barracks at Vallejo, Calif., Lance Corporal Danny Favier, son of Mr. and Mrs. David (Carol) Favier, 2729 Willow Ave.

The local serviceman edged out five other competitors to earn the prestigious award. His selection by a six-member board of senior enlisted Marines was based on conduct, performance, appearance, military knowledge and demeanor.

"The award means a lot to me and I am extremely proud to have won it," the 20-year-old soccer player and Granite City High School graduate said.

"It shows people do notice and pay attention to the job we do, and the selection is not going to hurt my career or chances for advancement," he added.

Lance Cpl. Favier graduated from San Diego boot camp 13 months ago.

"I would like to advance as much as I possibly can during my stint with the Marines," said Favier, who married his hometown sweetheart of four years and has an 11-month-old baby girl. He and his wife, the former Kathleen Nikonowicz of Granite City, live in off-base housing at Roosevelt Terrace.

As Sergeant of the Guard, he supervises one of three guard sections responsible for the security of Mare Island and it is a position he doesn't take lightly.

Lance Cpl. Favier is responsible for sure that each man does his job. His position also includes checking the security perimeters, interacting with the Mare Island Police Department when needed and the conduct of his men.

He became a Sergeant of the Guard over several members more senior to him because of his attention to detail, Marine spokesmen advise. "Sometimes it's difficult because some Marines in my section outrank me, but they all respect the position I hold," the serviceman said.

"We're here to do a job and everyone respects that," he added.

"Being a Marine, specially after the Beirut bombing, has given me a sense of pride. People viewed us differently after the bombing, and it made me stand a little taller and be more aware of myself as a Marine," Lance Cpl. Favier said.

"If I were asked to go to Beirut, I would go because that's what I'm trained for. Let's face it, we are professionals in this field and when it comes down to brass tacks, the needs of the Marine Corps come first," Favier stated.

Open house showings here to mark Private Property Week

The Granite City Board of Realtors will sponsor an open house Sunday, April 8, in observance of Private Property Week, April 8 to 14, announced Ralph Abrams, president to the board.

Private Property Week is observed annually to remind citizens of their Constitutional freedom to own real property, according to Abrams.

Selected homes offered through the Realtors will be opened April 8 to the public for viewing. A list of homes involved in the open house day will be published next week in the Press-Record.

The national theme of the Private Property Week observance is "The Strength of a Nation Lies in the Homes of Its People"—a quotation attributed to Abraham Lincoln. This theme is meant to reflect members' efforts to make the public aware that widespread home ownership fosters democracy because it disperses decision-making to each individual household over the use of the protection of the home.

"We want everybody in Granite City to be aware of the significance of private ownership, right in their lives. Home ownership brings out the best in people because it allows them to assume a responsibility, put down roots and make a commitment to the community," Abrams said, adding, "Because property owners pay taxes, they care about what happens to the school, streets, sewers, the trees and the parks. They want adequate police and fire protection. They care about the quality of life for their families. It's really no different for people who own businesses here, either."

YOUTH HIT BY AUTOMOBILE LISTED IN GOOD CONDITION

Seven-year-old Reggie Storde of 153 Lee Wright Homes, Venice, who was hit by an automobile at last Monday, was listed in good condition this week. He suffered a bump on his head, authorities said.

Storde was hit when he darted out onto Weaver Street from behind a parked car. The driver of the vehicle that was Ronald Alessandrini, 45, of Alessandrini's auto's right fender and side.

ENTERS VENICE HOME

A burglar pushed open a basement door to get into the home of Marion Guest, 107 Douglas St., Venice, and stole $33, he reported this week.

Cite fleeing driver on Arkansas warrant

An Arkansas man arrested March 23 after a Granite City officer chased the auto he was driving at speeds estimated up to 100 mph and three parked cars allegedly were damaged before he was caught was found to be wanted by Arkansas authorities, police reports said.

Randy Lee Sickler, 20, of Paragould, Ark., was being sought by Greene County (Ark.) Sheriff's Department on a warrant citing revocation of probation for allegedly failing to appear for a hearing on a felony theft charge.

He was charged by Granite City police with resisting arrest, fleeing and attempting to elude police, failure to give information upon striking an unattended vehicle, speeding and not having a valid license (his Arkansas license allegedly was suspended).

The chase started in the 3000 block of Madison Avenue when Sickler's auto allegedly was clocked on radar traveling 54 mph in a 35 mph zone. The motorist was pursued by a squad car to the 2200 block of Grand Avenue, where three parked autos were struck and Sickler allegedly left his vehicle and was taken into custody a short distance away.

In a court appearance Monday, Sickler pled guilty to the traffic charges and later the same day appeared again before Associate Judge Nicholas P. Byron on the fugitive warrant.

He agreed to sign extradition papers and was transferred Tuesday morning to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

ASSAULTED AT HOME

Jeffrey S. Gamble, 2916 Grand Ave., reported during the weekend that an unknown assailant struck his face with a fist, knocking out two teeth, when he stopped briefly at a Granite City residence to drop off two friends.

plant parking lot, enabling Nestle to use its present parking space for a building expansion that will increase the tea plant's employment.

Contract signings were completed for transfer of Johnson School to Knights of Columbus Council 1098 for $387,000, and transfer of Washington School for $22,367 to Masco Enterprises, which will remodel it into an apartment building.

Johnson will become the KC Council's club building and meeting hall.

A study by School Attorney William Schooley showed the validity of all procedures in the public auction of McKinley School and its land for $200,000 several years ago to St. Elizabeth Medical Center. A question had been raised last week by School Treasurer Kelly Hogan about a "11 deed," prompting the research.

The Lake proposal, discussed for the first time by the board, drew opposition from Lee Thomas, chairman of the School Board Committee of the Granite City Citizens Forum.

THOMAS SAID he was told there would be 130 students, including 75 residents, some of whom "have committed rapes and murders."

Supt. B.J. Davis said he understood the center would house 30 residents and also serve 45 students. None have been accused or convicted of crimes, he asserted.

Board members voiced caution on the proposal, citing citizens' concern over "detention center" rumors, and asked for more information. Special Education Director Steve Balen will attend the aldermanic meeting.

The group has been described to the City Council as one that formerly conducted classes at Stallings School. Led by Dr. Jared Balmer, it currently is operating in Alton and in Canton Township.

Among those participating in the preliminary talks is Madison County Regional Supt. of Schools Harold "Gene" Briggs.

ALTHOUGH it would operate 24 hours a day, it would not be a reformatory and would not have locked doors, the board was told.

The only problem said to have been encountered at existing centers is occasional vandalism of the centers' property by others, rather than activities by residents of the centers in surrounding blocks.

Of those who would be assigned here, one residential student and 14 day students live in Granite City, it was estimated.

Known as ETC or Educational Training Center, the program has been in operation about five years, the board was told.

Although no zoning change is being sought, city officials are said to have taken an interest due to the zoning aspect.

Thomas recalled that Stallings had been extensively damaged, but school officials disagreed.

During the board's discussion of possibly leasing Nameoki School as a Christian school, there was informal mention of a 20-year lease at $35,000 a year. However, specific details remain to be negotiated, and the board gave no hint of its attitude.

SPEAKING FOR the Agape Committee, Pastor Edwards said several churches have been preparing to start 30- or 40-pupil schools. They now feel that by merging their plans into a single center at Nameoki, classes of better size could be assured, board members were told.

About 50 local students attend such schools now in St. Louis, Collinsville, Alton and other cities and would transfer here, Edwards believes. Others who are interested in attending have been located through a survey.

He stressed the group's intention to start a new school in September, and said its use of Nameoki would ease the school system's costs and problems associated with upkeep of an unused school.

The pastor said the congregations like the school's location and have determined that, through tuition charges and other revenue they could finance its staff and meet utility costs.

CHRISTIAN ACADEMIES already operating here would continue and would not be involved in the new school, he told the Press-Record.

The pastor said the Granite City school district may be concerned about loss of students and related state financial aid, but that the churches' commitment to establish Christian classes is firm, regardless of the exact location.

Nestle Co. plans were described as involving evaporator equipment and a tea bag machine. Already, the plant staff has been expanded by 33 jobs.

High bidder for Emerson at $52,805 was Trust 645, represented by First Granite City National Bank and Architect Henry Gabriel. Gabriel said a development firm was seeking the school site for industrial or warehouse use but had no immediate utilization plan.

BOARD PRESIDENT David Partney stressed Nestle's longtime role as an employer and good citizen of the school district.

He said the plant is bounded by railroad tracks on the west, by Illinois Power Co. on the north and by Metro-East Industrial Supply on the south, requiring it to look eastward to Emerson in order to expand.

Board Members Dewey Melton and Monroe Worthen voiced some reluctance to reject the highest offer, but the roll call on selling Emerson to Nestle for $50,000—the second highest bid—passed 7-0 after Schooley said such discretion was within the board's authority.

Glen Carbon agreement

By SUSAN SIGNAIO-WEICH of the Press-Record

Members of Madison County's special sanitary sewer committee gave tentative agreement last night to an intergovernmental agreement which would route Glen Carbon's sewage through the county system.

The sewage then would go to Granite City for a regional wastewater treatment.

According to John Arnold, controller for Sheppard, Morgan and Schwab Inc., engineers for the upgrading project, the biggest "worry" of the agreement had been arranging a pay-back schedule for county money that is being used to match a 75-25 construction grant.

THE COUNTY, which has already received tentative approval on its grant from the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA), would pay 25 percent of the costs, with the rest being paid by state administered federal funds.

This 25 percent has been estimated at $97,484, and would provide for county sewer improvements to handle the increased flow from Glen Carbon.

The county has contended throughout negotiations that cost is to be borne by Glen Carbon, and the contract specifies for this payment. According to the tentative agreement, all design and capital costs for expanding the capacity of the county system will be paid by Glen Carbon at the time the contracts are awarded by the county, for the construction on the facilities.

The allocation of the replacement costs, which were termed a "real stickler" by Arnold, will be based on each participant's annual flow. In other words, if an electric bill is $1,000 on one of the lift stations that both participants use, the bill each municipality receives, will be based on their flow through the lift station.

Arnold said the problem with the negotiations had come about when an escrow account was suggested for the holding of these replacement costs. Arnold said that Glen Carbon was against putting the money into a county account, because they would lose interest on their own money.

INSTEAD, GLEN Carbon will hold their own money in a separate account. When a replacement cost is accrued, the county will send Glen Carbon an invoice for payment.

Other terms of the agreement included metering and billing responsibilities. Under the contract, meter readings (which will determine the monthly user charges for Glen Carbon) will be taken by a private contractor.

From these readings, an annual bill for Glen Carbon will be determined and Glen Carbon will be billed one twelfth of this amount monthly.

IT WILL THEN be Glen Carbon's responsibility to collect these moneys from its users.

After 12 months, an audit will be conducted to determine the actual costs incurred by Glen Carbon and either a debit or credit billing will be made to them at that time.

"GLEN CARBON has told us that their annual flow is 215,350,000, which happens to work out to be 35 percent of the total flow," he said.

"So this (35 percent) is what we will be basing our user charges, replacement costs and debt service on for the first year."

If the 35 percent is taken as the annual percentage of flow, Glen Carbon's monthly user bill would be about $3,530, or $1.68 per month per user (based on 2,100 equal usage sewers).

In addition to this, Glen Carbon would also be billed for sewer treatment from Granite City.

The board will send a copy of the tentative contract to Glen Carbon Monday. Arnold said he expects the county and Glen Carbon to meet at least one more time before a final draft is submitted to the Madison County Board and the Glen Carbon village board for approval.

Walsmsley puts to rest rumors that GCHS accreditation might be dropped

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Editor

North Central Association accreditation is important to Granite City High School and the school will strive to continue to earn that accreditation, Granite City School principal of GCHS, pledged during the Granite City Optimist Club's meeting last week.

Walsmsley's comments came in response to a question about rumors that the school board may voluntarily drop NCA membership, due to budget and staff cuts. Granite City Schools have maintained full accreditation since receiving NCA membership in 1969.

"The principal said he believes he may have been responsible for the rumors starting. 'When the two high schools (GCHS North and South) were merged, I met with the department chairmen this fall and said it was time to plan for NCA evaluation. I asked, 'Do you believe we should be committed to this set of standards or is this set of standards becoming archaic?' I think that started the rumors. I was trying to motivate them. Fortunately, there was overwhelming support of the staff for NCA standards," Walsmsley said.

He stressed, "The answer, very resoundingly was 'Yes we do.' We are in the process of preparing for evaluation now."

NCA accreditation was the result of "a group of schools getting together and saying we expect these standards. Every year, we prepare a paper reporting how we have met the standards and every seven years there is an on-site inspection. Thirty or 40 people will come here to see that we have done what we said we have done in our annual reports," Walsmsley said.

He concluded that he agrees with the teachers that NCA motivates the schools to maintain quality and aids graduates in college and job placements. "I think North Central accreditation is vitally important," he summarized.

Walsmsley announced this week the names of seven persons who will serve on the steering committee to direct the school's efforts during its self-study and NCA evaluation. The committee will be chaired by Mrs. Sonya Adkerson, coordinator of pupil personnel services.

THE OTHER members are Walsmsley, Harold Gebhardt, Cynthia Hormell, Sondra Kopsky, Ronald Pennell and Phillip Shatto. According to Mrs. Adkerson, the evaluation will involve "a thorough review of the school's programs and operations. The core inquiry will be on the extent to which the teaching and learning activities within the school carry out its major purposes."

GCHS South was last evaluated in 1978 and GCHS North was last evaluated in 1975.

THE NORTH Central Association, the nation's largest regional accrediting association, is a voluntary league of more than 5,000 schools, colleges and universities within a 19-state region. The association works with individual schools and institutions to improve the quality of education at all levels through a continuous process of accreditation and evaluation.

Amtrak plans trains to New Orleans

St. Louis and Kansas City railroad passengers will soon have direct rail access to New Orleans and Memphis, U. S. Senator Jack Danforth (R-Mo.) has announced.

According to Danforth, the Amtrak board of directors has voted to extend the Amtrak Kansas City-St. Louis Mule route, from St. Louis to Centralia, Ill., where it will join a north-south line. The route is expected to be completed in time for the 1984 World's Fair in New Orleans.

"This is good news for rail passengers throughout Missouri," Danforth said. "This new connection will provide Missourians with a direct way of reaching New Orleans, Memphis and many other southern cities."

Extending the line will be accomplished by improving the connecting track to Centralia and installing a power switch in East St. Louis to permit crossing and switching of through cars.

STEAL CASH, STAMPS

Cecille Rockett, 1114 Market St., Venice, reported this week that $195 cash and $200 worth of food stamps were stolen from a purse at her home.

Luke 12:33 "... Fear not, little flock, for it is your Father's good pleasure to give to you the kingdom."

What is Jesus talking about in this verse of scripture? It is the Father's pleasure to give us the kingdom. The scripture says that every good and perfect gift comes from our Father in heaven.

God wants to give his children all the good things he has at his disposal. He wants us to have a rich and satisfying life. He wants to open up the heavens and pour down his blessings on us. He wants us to have good health. He desires that we have plenty of money. He doesn't want us to be lacking in any good thing.

You may ask, why don't we have these things then? Most of us don't know God well enough to know what He wants us to have. We simply haven't made the effort to find out who He really is. We will teach you how you can have God's very best at Word of Life Tabernacle. We trust we will see you soon.

Citizens Forum backs board

Lee Thomas, chairman of the School Board Committee of the Granite City Citizens Forum, voiced the group's support at a board meeting Tuesday night.

David Partney, Board of Education president, also defended the board and assailed the Press-Record for Monday's article, "Divided and activist board is shaking up schools and educators—Analysis."

Thomas, attending the meeting on crutches after suffering multiple leg fractures in a fall on ice, said, "In light of recent articles in the papers, let me take a moment or two and direct to all of you the following observations."

"Before last year's election for school board posts, we the people of Granite City were aware of the apparent poor management of this school district."

"Through a lawful election, we addressed the issue. However, since the very first meeting of this newly-elected board, there has been a concerted effort to convince the electorate that their choice was based on emotionalism rather than fact."

"The facts had showed that, whether by malice or misunderstanding, our school system was being put into a state of receivership."

"At the polls we elected a new board and charged them with reversing the trends of previous boards."

"Suddenly, the same people whom we elected are the villains and we the citizens are hapless victims."

"You have been called the majority four and an us vs. them situation. It may be true that certain board members are guilty of stirring things up, but let us not forget that they can only stir if there is something to stir."

"They did not put this pot to boil, but have been asked at the polls to brew it as they see best for this district."

"It is our firm belief that those who will attempt to discredit the actions of this board by subterfuge with their own ax to grind should be exposed as just that."

"Why wouldn't our teachers retire early, with the misgivings about this board? If they have been lied to by those who hope to gain, then the ones responsible for those lies know it."

"If the teachers have been misinformed because of rumor, then this board should sit down with the parties involved and air this."

"If any administrators are guilty of wrongdoing, they should be dismissed immediately."

"If any board members or representatives of this board are guilty, then legal steps should be enacted to remove them."

"However, I feel that the greatest injustice here is the newspapers trying to make you look like buffoons to be laughed at. I have seen inaccurate reports in the papers before and should hope that those responsible strive for excellence lest they be thought guilty of yellow journalism."

"Until this board proves itself incapable of handling the affairs of this district, all of you should be given the benefit of the doubt."

"Speaking as a taxpayer and resident of this district, I shall follow the actions of this board closely. However, in accordance with my principles I will continue to feel that you are all innocent until you prove yourself guilty of yellow journalism."

"This is not, nor should my words be construed as, an attack on this board—but rather a rebuttal to those, whoever they may be, that have taken it upon themselves to attack or discredit this board."

Thomas concluded.

Pres. Partney said, "Recent lengthy comments by a reporter for the local Press has criticized the restructuring of this district."

"The structure had to be changed due to a loss of enrollment, loss of teachers and an over $8 million indebtedness."

"This article stated that any one of the members of the board could be tempted to coerce a member to change his vote?"

"Perhaps he should have suggested a member of the minority to establish a 5-2 vote. That would be more constructive towards reducing the deficit of the district and molding a district which looks to the future."

"In the recent election, only two new members were endorsed by the teachers' union. No one is calling the shots of the independent-thinking board members as that article by the district's critic, since November...are not...calling all the shots, nor does any one group deserve all the praise or criticism for the new approach."

"No one is 'getting even' in this process," Pres. Partney asserted.

"Even that article acknowledged that the former board made decisions, including personnel changes, based on pure politics. Fortunately, that situation no longer exists."

(Editor's note: The article said a non-Partney Democratic faction "undoubtedly has sought to influence hiring and other decisions," but did not say such attempts resulted in board decisions.)

"As president of this board," Partney said during the "public comment" portion of the board meeting, "I have placed on key committees all of the board members of the board to try to keep peace. Despite Mr. Winter's comment, as a successful businessman I know you can't take anything or anyone for granted. (Note: The article said, "Partney...thinks a governing body has a duty to stay abreast of the system that it oversees and not take anything for granted or at face value.")

"It is not my intention to serve as president of the board indefinitely, as was the past practice. This is an honor which should be shared. I wonder about Mr. Winter's source of information. (Note: The article did not say he seeks to be a longtime president. It said, "Not many see him being the president for a long succession of years...Now that he is president, the same attacking style may not produce equally beneficial results.")

"Mr. Winter states that former members were defeated due to the closing of six schools. (Note: The closing policy was described as one of the reasons.)

"Was it the closing of the six schools or the manner in which these members showed financial irresponsibility? I voted to close those schools any way re-elected by a large margin," Partney noted.

"True, I have supported candidates for many offices throughout the political scene. All I have requested in return is that they do a good job for the taxpayers of our area."

"In my closing statement, I feel Mr. Winter needs to stop writing his personal feelings in news articles and save them for the editorial column, in which most newspaper people will tell you this type of reporting belongs. (Note: Many U.S. newspapers, including those in St. Louis, publish signed articles marked "analysis" to give in-depth explanation and comment.)

"If Mr. Winter has something against me or the way I perform my duties, I will be happy to debate Mr. Winter publicly about his feelings," Pres. Partney said.

"If the people of this area recall, he has never endorsed me for any election or re-election. But I do feel that many of his news articles, which would better be captioned editorials, are doing harm to our school district, and hope they stop."

"Please stick to newspaper reporting, Mr. Winter. I will not be coerced by you through the power of your newspaper," the statement concluded.

The analysis article Monday presented both positive and negative information. It said the board was split 4-3 and that normal use of staff resources was being ignored in favor of advice from others.

Board members have asserted publicly that non-employees, including non-educators, have been trying to function as educators.

School Treasurer Kelly Hogan said at Tuesday night's meeting that his instructions about utilization of Bryan Wilkinson—in a motion adopted March 20—needed to be clarified.

Hogan said he had meant to suggest that the administration redefine the faculty members' present assignment so that the teacher could aid in completing tasks while the director of physical education and athletics is off work due to illness.

Partney said Wilkinson's role will be helpful in making needed preparations now for next year's program, including soccer scheduling and referees.

Hogan agreed, noting that sports budgeting also is in progress.

Partney later in the meeting made a motion that the positions of superintendent of schools and assistant superintendent be combined. The motion died for lack of a second.

Regional leaders seek boosts for area's economy

More than 100 St. Louis area leaders asked the St. Louis congressional delegation Tuesday to help reduce federal deficits that they said would hamper economic recovery.

The group also urged that the St. Louis region receive its fair share of federal transportation trust funds and other federal programs.

The group was in Washington under the auspices of the St. Louis Regional Commerce and Growth Association, a not-for-profit membership organization that works for the economic development of the metropolitan area.

Ted C. Wetterau, board chairman of the RCGA and chairman and chief executive officer of Wetterau Incorporated, led the group in a discussion of 10 issues and six projects considered important to the economy of the region. Members of Congress and their staffs received the legislative proposals at the luncheon meeting.

Before lunch, the group received a briefing from W. Allen Hogan, director of legislation on the staff of Sen. John C. Danforth.

Wetterau pointed out that many St. Louis area political, labor and business leaders, working in concert with the congressional delegation, have united in support of a light rail transit system "which will improve mobility and spur economic development."

In addition to seeking federal approval and trust funds for the proposed transit system, the RCGA's legislative package includes:

- Implementing grace report recommendations where feasible. It would produce an estimated $424 billion savings for the federal government over three years.
- Restrictions on the use of industrial revenue bonds.
- Continued support of the Metropolitan Area Rail Gateway Enterprise (MARGE) railroad modernization project.

—Formation of a bi-partisan commission to resolve the waterway user charge equity problems.

—Revisions in environmental laws. Some existing and proposed laws exact a disproportionate cost or impose less than cost-effective compliance measures on the St. Louis area. The RCGA said proposals to control acid rain in the Northeast would raise St. Louis area electric rates 20 percent and jeopardize 15,000 Illinois coal miners' jobs with no assurance of achieving the intended benefit of uniform product liability standards.

—Permission of use all-weather dual landing equipment at Lambert St. Louis International Airport.

—Support of a proposed new space station.

—Concern over the Office of Management and Budget's recent revision of metropolitan area designations that split some of the larger metropolitan areas. The new designations dramatically affect how the St. Louis area is ranked.

In a briefing book handed to members of Congress, the RCGA also pressed for federal enterprise zone legislation, job training programs, funding for the arts, a Metro-East park as an extension to the Jefferson National Expansion Memorial on the riverfront, a second lock at the new Locks and Dam 26 at Alton, a St. Louis harbor study and continued funding of the F-15, F-18 and C-17 aircraft programs.

The group reported that the RCGA's plans for promoting high-technology are proceeding successfully. A not-for-profit corporation, St. Louis Technology Center, Inc., was organized recently with the dual purpose of providing a home for high-tech industry and of creating high-tech businesses. In the near future, it expects to identify a specific location for its home and to announce financing plans.

CENSUS OF INCOME IN AREA NEXT WEEK

Beginning April 2, local representatives of the U. S. Bureau of the Census will visit selected households in the area to conduct the Survey of Income and Program Participation. Marvin L. Postma, Director of the Bureau's Regional Office in Kansas City has announced.

This survey is being conducted in response to the need for better information on the economic well-being of the U. S. Population. Information collected will be used to determine how selected government programs are working, and to help policy makers consider what changes are needed to make programs more effective.

Area households are among 18,000 nationwide taking part in the survey. Interviewers will gather information on jobs, earnings, participation in various government programs, and population characteristics. Summary data from the survey will be published periodically.

Information supplied by people taking part in the survey will be kept confidential and used only to prepare statistical summaries from which no individual or household can be identified. Representatives conducting the interviews will carry credentials identifying them as Census Bureau employees.

Board member receives apology, urges cooperation

A call for School Board cooperation was made by Member Dewey Melton on Tuesday night after fellow member, Treasurer Kelly Hogan, apologized to him.

Minutes of the March 20 meeting said that "Member Hogan made comments relative to a letter written by a board member relative to sports activities. Member Melton asked if Member Hogan was referring to him. Member Melton denied ever having written such a letter."

Hogan this week said he has no letter although he had been told one existed.

He apologized during Tuesday's board meeting to Melton, the board and the public.

Melton accepted the apology and then read a statement he had prepared before learning there would be an apology.

"At the last board meeting, March 20, after I had criticized the actions of a subset of this board, Member Hogan made an allegation that I had used my position as board member to gain special privilege for one of my children."

"He alleged that there was a letter to the freshman football coach signed by me asking for special consideration for my son. He stated that he could produce such a letter."

"I knew that I had written no such letter, nor in any other way tried to influence the coach, but I was concerned that someone was using my name without my knowledge or authorization."

"In an effort to determine the facts in this allegation, the next morning I contacted the high school principal, Gilbert Walmsley, and asked him to arrange a meeting with the freshman football coach and the high school athletic director."

"At about 11:20 that morning I met with Mr. Walmsley, Mr. (Roger) Smith and Mr. (Gustave) Lignoul in Mr. Walmsley's office."

Melton told the board, "I had two things I wanted to accomplish with the meeting. One, I wanted to get a copy of the alleged letter if it existed. Two, I wanted to assure Mr. Lignoul that if such a letter existed, I had nothing to do with it."

"The net of that meeting was this. Mr. Lignoul stated that he had received an anonymous, typewritten letter after the first game of the season criticizing him for not playing more boys. He no longer had the letter, but had thrown it away about three weeks ago as he changed lockers."

"According to him, there was no mention of my name nor that of my son. He further stated that any changes in playing time for any of the boys had nothing to do with that letter but with the philosophy of the head football coach; he wants as many youngsters to play as possible because one never knows how a boy will develop from freshman to senior."

"This is certainly a philosophy that makes sense to me and one that seems to have worked for Mr. (Tom) Wyrostek."

"As near as I can tell from the meeting, there was no association by the football coaching staff of my name with that anonymous letter."

"These are the facts surrounding this allegation as I have been able to determine them."

"I hope Mr. Hogan will use this incident, along with his own experience of being a victim of rumor, to understand that everything he has heard about School Board members, administrators or others is not necessarily true."

"I would further remind each of us as board members that we are each endowed with a special public trust."

"We have each been asked by the public, some (of us) several times, to carry out a high mission, providing for the education of this community's children."

"Let us set aside any personal differences, any grievances that may exist, and get on with the business of running this school district," Melton urged.

"This school district is still in a perilous financial situation. For us to get through these troubled waters to happier times, we will have to work cooperatively with each other and our employees."

"As one board member stated, the public demands change."

"Since I have been on this board, change has been necessary. I am not afraid of change, but change should be brought about deliberately, after study, after some assurance that it will accomplish the desired result without bankrupting the district educationally or financially."

"I am not afraid of the ideas of others. I am not afraid for anyone to be afraid of mine."

"We are each enriched by differences of perspective, by diversity of opinion."

"Hopefully," Melton concluded, "by sharing our thoughts and ideas with each other we stand a better chance of keeping this district financially and educationally viable."

Issue warrant after getting lab report

Charles E. Ragan, 40, whose address was listed at 1041 Washington Ave., Madison, and on Violet Avenue in Pontoon Beach, was taken into custody by Madison police and released to Granite City officers at 6:30 p.m. Monday on a warrant issued here alleging unlawful possession of a controlled substance.

In an appearance before Associate Judge Nicholas Byron in the Granite City court Tuesday morning, Ragan's bond was set at $20,000, a preliminary hearing was scheduled and a mittimus was issued. He was transferred to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville at 4:40 p.m. Tuesday.

Ragan initially was arrested earlier this month on charges of unlawful possession of a hypodermic syringe and illegal possession of alcohol when a car in which he was riding was stopped at Nameoki Road and Victory Drive.

The charges were filed after two hypodermic syringes, four plastic covered needles and some substances were found in a plastic bag in the glove compartment. Beer also allegedly was in the vehicle. Certain items in the auto were sent to a laboratory for testing and the results allegedly showed it was a controlled substance, reports said.

In a March 5 court appearance, Ragan pleaded innocent to possession of the syringe and alcohol and was released on a recognizance bond and upon posting a $102 cash bond, pending completion of his laboratory tests.

21N AUTO ARE TICKETED

James Matyas, 18, of 5209 Lakeview Drive, Pontoon Beach, was ticketed for alcohol possession and James Wilkinson, 18, of 2155 Waterman Ave. for alcohol transportation last week on Nameoki Road.

SURPRISE! Marlene Pfeiffer of the 2100 block of State Street had to be surprised when she returned home to find an eight-foot birthday card on the front lawn proudly announcing her 43rd birthday. The card was from her place of employment, sent by Dr. Ingrid Bauer and staff. Mrs. Pfeiffer is a doctor's assistant. (Press-Record Photo by Patrick Foley)

Entries sought for 9th Illinois film and video festival

Independent film and video artists throughout the state of Illinois, both professional and student, are invited to submit their works for judging in the Ninth Festival of Illinois Film and Video Artists. Cash prizes of $250 will be awarded to the "Best Film" and "Best Video" and finalists will be awarded certificates of merit.

The prize-winning entries and other outstanding entries will be shown in a public program at the Biograph Theatre, 2422 N. Lincoln Ave. in Chicago on Sunday, May 20. Admission is $3.00.

THE FESTIVAL is sponsored by the Film and Video Department to Columbia College Chicago and is made possible, in part, by a grant from the Illinois Arts Council, a state agency. Anthony Loeb, chairman of Columbia's film/video program, continues to serve as director of the Festival which he founded in 1975.

Dramatic, documentary, animated and experimental 16mm films and 1/2" or 3/4" videotapes may be entered in the competition. All works must be technically fit for projection. Works made primarily for purposes of instruction, education, information, promotion or advertising will not be considered. Founder Loeb said he conceived the Festival, "to showcase the work of independent filmmakers and to nourish the Illinois Film Community. It has now become an integral part of artistic life in Chicago and throughout the state. It is meant to be an important annual showcase demonstrating the viability of the visual arts community and providing a vehicle for people who are working outside of commercial channels and without access to the distribution apparatus. The festival is now a recognized celebration of Illinois film and video artistry, a focal point for viewing the best independent work produced in the State of Illinois."

ORIGINALLY TITLED the Chicago Filmmakers Festival when it was founded in 1975, the program changed its title in 1978 to the Festival of Illinois Filmmakers in recognition of the work being done throughout the state. In order to keep abreast of developments within the visual media, the festival once again altered its title this year with the addition of video.

Entries must be submitted no later than Wednesday, May 2, to the Film and Video Department, Columbia College, 600 S. Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill. 60605.

For complete rules and further information, contact Sarah Aspen at 1-312-463-1600, extension 302.

Cancer Crusade starts Monday

Jack Gries, Chairman of the Quad-City Unit of the American Cancer Society has announced the opening of the 1984 Cancer Crusade and Educational Month. "Give Yourself the Chance of a Lifetime" is the theme of the crusade that begins Monday, April 2 and continues throughout the month.

Mrs. Charlene Pohlman is the income development chairman of the local unit. Joining her in the development of the financial campaign will be Mrs. Darlene Laub and Mrs. Evelyn Schneider. The statewide goal is $7.9 million dollars.

"We are proud to be serving in the Quad-City Unit of the American Cancer Society since we are offering help and information that can help individuals increase their odds of living a healthy life," the Crusade participants explained. "It is now possible to prevent 60 percent of all cancers," they added.

"We feel that 'Giving yourself the chance of a lifetime' is a tremendous community service," added the Rev. Don F. Pierson, publicity chairman for the event.

The Quad-City Unit of the American Cancer Society is trying to reach as many residents as possible with cancer-prevention information. Crusade volunteers will be calling on homes in the area with information in a pamphlet entitled "Give Yourself the Chance of a Lifetime." "Since it is now possible to cure up to 90 percent of all cancer with early detection, we feel that the public is well-served with the information we are making possible," stated the local Cancer Society President Jack Gries.

"We are using the generous support of the public in the support of continued research as well as programs in public education and service," reported the co-chairman. "By taking advantage of the information our callers are providing, the American Cancer Society is offering us 'The Chance of a Lifetime,' they concluded.

State gathering information for Food and Agriculture Act

Governor James R. Thompson announced Thursday a series of meetings will be held beginning next month to gather information for the 1985 Food and Agriculture Act.

"Agriculture is the largest single industry in Illinois, responsible for a large portion of employment for our people," Governor Thompson said. "These listening sessions will provide Illinois people a forum in which to voice their suggestions for the 1985 Farm Bill. As a major agriculture state, we have the opportunity to strongly influence future policy."

The first in the series of meetings is scheduled for April 5 at Rend Lake College in Ina, Illinois. Citizens from the area will be invited to provide suggestions for the 1985 Farm Bill. The information gathered during these meetings will be assembled and forwarded to the United States Department of Agriculture and members of the Illinois Congressional Delegation.

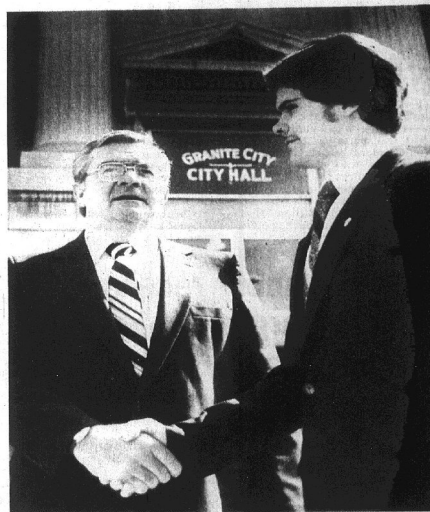

The Rend Lake session will be chaired by Illinois Agriculture Director Larry A. Worries. It will begin at 10 a.m. and will last until 1 p.m. Citizens wishing to testify should submit a written request to the Illinois Director of Agriculture by April 3.

Persons not making prior application with the Department of Agriculture will be allowed to testify on a first-come basis after all those pre-registered are heard. Two typed copies of each individual's testimony will be required before being heard.

David Fitzgerald Brown, 19, of 93 Grenzer Homes, Madison, was charged Monday by Madison police with theft and criminal trespass to property.

Brown was charged after he allegedly came into Paulette Smith's home, 132 Garesche Homes, Venice, and took clothes and a clock belonging to her child. He pleaded not guilty to all of the charges and was released on a $5,000 recognizance bond.

Suspect youth of raping child

A 15-year-old rape suspect remained in custody early Wednesday pending further investigation into the molestation of a 5-year-old Granite City girl.

The child and a 13-month-old baby girl had been left in care of the youth, a relative of the children, while the mother was gone for a four-hour period Tuesday night, reports said.

Police were called to St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 1:05 a.m. Wednesday and were advised by a nurse the girl was brought in by her mother after the youngster complained of being hurt by the youth.

The mother reported arriving home and found her 13-month-old daughter crying. As she was calming her down, the 5-year-old complained of pain and indicated the youth had hurt her. The mother then noticed blood stains on the child's clothing and bed sheet. It was noted.

According to the child, the molestation occurred on the living room couch, where she was watching television, reports said.

An examination was made by a physician at the emergency room and evidence was collected. The child was admitted for surgical consultation, it was stated.

The youth, who was still at the child's home, where he had been staying for the past two weeks, was confronted by a police sergeant, who took him into custody.

Two friends had stopped by the house during the time the mother was absent, the youth told police.

3 Lotto winners are identified

Three Chicago Lotto players matched all six winning numbers in Saturday's drawing, and each will receive a 20-year annuity worth $1,770,000 in payments of $88,510 per year.

All three of the winners have identified themselves to lottery officials. The first is Annie Hughes, 52, of Chicago's west side, a salad technician at Riverdale Hospital. She says she has no immediate plans for spending her money, but is thinking about investing in real estate. She has three children.

The second winner to identify herself is Dora Mitchell from Chicago's south side. Mrs. Mitchell, 38, also has three children and says she picked the winning numbers at random.

The third winner to identify himself is Jesse Williams, also from Chicago's south side. He works at the Campbell Soup Company in West Chicago. Williams, 55, and his wife, Bernice, have three children. He says he plans to pay off the bills and his mortgage with his winnings, and maybe "travel a bit."

In addition to the three grand prize winners, there were 286 players who picked five of the six winning numbers and they will each receive second place prizes of $3,126.

There were 18,972 players who matched four of the six numbers drawn and they will each collect third place prizes of $71.

The six winning numbers for the March 24 drawing were: 02, 10, 30, 32, 33, 38. Total Lotto sales for that week were $6,940,400,000.

Next Saturday's (March 31) grand prize guaranteed to a single winner has been set at $5.5 million. Multiple winners will share the actual cash in the grand prize pool.

2 ARRESTED ON WARRANTS

Booked on an early-1983 Granite City warrant alleging battery, Michael Cancheff, 24, of 3108 Edgewood Ave. was freed last week on $502 cash bail. In an unrelated case, Bob G. Barton Jr., 23, of 703 Kirkpatrick Homes was released on $402 on a late-1982 Granite City warrant alleging theft.

ST. LOUIS MAN CHARGED

Wilbert W. Pearson, 30, of St. Louis, was arrested last week by Madison police. He was served warrants alleging failure to appear in court on charges of resisting arrest, criminal damage to property and aggravated assault. Pearson was transferred to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

A Sports Special

They were more than just 'Pals' on the court

By AL BARNES
for the Press-Record

This is the time for the annual March Madness, both in high school basketball and collegiate hardwood activities.

These past three weeks, the American Public has been treated to a sensational menu of basketball games almost beyond belief, with last second shots in dramatic overtime games almost a dime a dozen.

The Quad-Cities three local high schools, Granite City High, Madison and Venice, have all contributed their efforts to making this an above average cage season for the residents of the Quad-Cities.

But, cage fans of this area have always been fortunate: they have annually had more than their share to cheer about. Coming to mind, instantly, of course, are the members of the area's only Illinois State High School championship team, the sensational 1941 squad led by Andy Phillip, and his buddies, and the group which almost went all the way, Rich Williams and his teammates.

These two teams, and the others just a little less well-known, both pale when compared to a truly amazing and outstandingly talented bunch of basketball players who played under the name of The Pals back there in the late 1920's and through the Depression Days of the Thirties.

Now, more than a half century (50 years) ago, the Pals' feats on the basketball court were so outstanding that they were almost unbelievable. The example, the Pals still hold the national scoring record in the records, both posted in the same game. On March 2, 1935, the Pals played the St. Louis Falcons on the road in the Mound City (St. Louis) and won the game by an amazing 202-3 score.

How's that for an offense and a greater defense? The St. Louisans were held to a single point in the first half and a lone free throw the second. For the Pals, it was: Davis, 32 points; Mehl, 16 points; Holland, 37 points; Moss, 41 points; Bost, 30 points; Thruau, 32 points, and Tatalovich, four points.

Long-time manager of the Pals, Vic Koenig, was the principal source for the background and overall history of this sensational group of cagers.

Explained Koenig: "The team grew out of a Sunday school class at the Zion Methodist Church (on Cleveland). Ramrod (the group was a young man new to town, Byron Bozarth, who for many years coached football, basketball and track at Granite City Community High starting around 1927 or thereabouts," and pausing, he added:

"And, in time of course, his job at the high school really forced us to make other arrangements. And, so I just naturally was given the job, not of coaching, really, since our guys (Spike) Wilson.

Many colleges then regularly scheduled such outstanding amateur clubs as the Granite City quintet. The Pals regularly beat McKendree and Shurtleff teams.

And, who did the Pals lose to in the Chicago (journalism) none other than the DePaul University cagers. No doubt, of course, some few years before Coach Ray Meyer arrived on the scene.

Members of that 1931 Pals team were: John (Bud) Taylor, Elmer Baumberger, Roy Colin, William Skinner, Herb Werthe, Tony Kovnicka, Claude Jones, Francis (Salty) Parker, Babe Thomas (team mascot) Ken (Spike) Wilson and Carl Werthe. Active in raising the funds necessary for the trip was a young Granite Cityan, Orville Hodge.

...The Pals played the St. Louis Falcons on the road in the Mound City (St. Louis) and won the game by an amazing 202-3 score.

on the Pals' roster were so talented they really didn't need a coach.

"My main job was making travel arrangements and scheduling games, plus raising the money needed to buy our equipment, such as balls, you know. Most of the guys bought their own shoes."

He went on the explain that the Pals' glory days were in the Depression Days (from October, 1929) through the start of World War II.

Probably the Pals' greatest feat was being invited to take part in the Chicago Herald and Examiner's national amateur basketball tournament late in March of 1931, which was held, of course, in the Windy City. The tournament drew a field of 800 teams from all over the United States.

And the Pals, winning six games, finally lost in the quarterfinals. Named to the All-Tournament Team were two Granite City players: Francis (Salty) Parker and Kenneth Koenig was asked how the Pals managed to score so many points back there well over 50 years ago, and even with the center jump still being used after each basket. "The key players in it were Salty Parker, on what they now called the outlet pass, would grab the ball after the opposing player had shot and missed and then zinged the ball to a fast-breaking Homer Thruau who took the first shot. If he missed, then the trailing Ken (Spike) Wilson would tip the ball in. Soon, though, Parker and Wilson decided to flip a coin before each game to see who would get the first pass. In one St. Louis Mundy game the Pals played the Lutheran team and they decided to take turns... one getting the pass the first half and then the other half. They ended up with 50 points each."

Koenig, whose pride in the Pals is still bright even now.

said: "Whatever those two, Wilson and Parker did scoring-wise, Len Davis was even better. He was, by far, the best shot. I believe that ever played for a Granite City High team and then, after college at Wabash and Shurtleff, for the Pals."

The late Lenard Fleischman, men store operator and a great basketball fan, always maintained that Davis was the best basketball shot he had ever seen and he had followed all the pro teams back when the St. Louis Hawks held sway locally.

"I never saw Len Davis miss a free throw, Fleischman said. He told the story now that Davis once made 96 straight free throws and blundered at that.

Back in those wild and woolly days, too, the two amateur teams regularly played college teams in the area. And, there were cases where members of the Pals, playing on one of those college teams, found themselves playing against their old teammates... Turrau for Millikin U. in Decatur, Davis for Shurtleff in Alton and Wilson at McKendree. In all three cases, the Pals won.

Other standout Pal players were Junior Bost, Chick Jones, Dutch Berend, Bill Niedringhaus, Jim Holland, and Hap Lignoul. Niedringhaus' father's car was the main transportation for the Pals especially as the Depression grew worse and deepened.

Every once in a while, the Pals would split up and play against each other, especially down in play at the Granite City YMCA. On this one occasion, Vic Koenig was coaching the team against Len Davis. His players couldn't figure out a way to stop Davis and turned to Koenig before the game started. "I had the answer for them. I had noticed two or three years before that Davis couldn't see too good in the afternoon light. It was during a Sunday afternoon game in St. Louis and he scored only six points. We thought he was sick on something. Then, it happened again, also in the afternoon. So, I just told the guys to concentrate on the four other guys and leave Davis all by himself. And he didn't make a basket," he said with a big smile. Asked why, Koenig says now: "I really don't know, but man could he shoot them in the evening light."

Whitaker named GCC head coach

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

Walt Whitaker, Granite City Center's assistant wrestling coach last year and the only wrestling coach Granite City North High School ever had, will be Granite City Center's new head wrestling coach. The announcement was made Wednesday evening by Dr. Frank Gornick, GCC Principal.

"I had the opportunity to see Walt coach this year," Gornick began. "And I saw that the kids respect him and he respects the kids. There aren't many people who can top the standards that Walt requires from his athletes."

Gornick went on to compliment Whitaker for his contributions and guidance towards the Stars' two 1984 All-Americans, Randy Lupardus and Jim Tiemann.

"Certainly, the athletes don't choose a coach, but their respect for him certainly put him in the forefront as a candidate for the position," Gornick said. "Also, with Walt as the coach I know the program is in good hands. If I need to I can walk away and know I don't have to worry about the wrestling program," Gornick said, who is also GCC's athletic director.

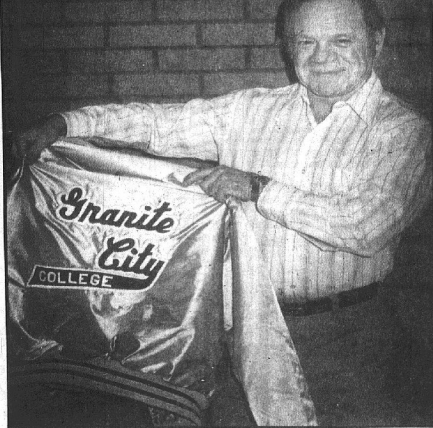

Initially, Whitaker said he expressed some reservations about accepting the GCC head coach's position for two reasons. First, he was concerned about his schedule at Granite City High School and whether he could fairly devote enough time to each. Whitaker's second concern was the inavailability of training weights and secondary training and practicing mats, two things which Whitaker says hampered GCC's team last year.

Whitaker's concerns were put to ease recently when the Center received an Olympic set of weights and additional training mats. He was struck between GCC and the Granite City Wrestling Club. With those obstacles out of the way Whitaker openly accepted the position.

"I'm very happy. This certainly puts me in a familiar surrounding," Whitaker said referring to the 10 years he coached the Steeler wrestling team from the same gymnasium. "Unfamiliarity certainly won't be a problem. It'll be like coming back home."

"This will be a challenge for me, but I feel confident that we can build a respectable program at Granite City Center," Whitaker said.

"CERTAINLY we're not going to be up there with the Tritons (Triton Junior College) at first, but in a couple of years I feel like can be right up there with the best of them," Whitaker said. Last year, the Stars were 1-6 in dual meets. Its only victory coming against Washington University's junior varsity.

For Whitaker, the GCC head coaching position will be one of developing a program, but something that is not new to him.

During his tenure as the Steeler head coach, Whitaker amassed a 167-25-3 record, winning 87 percent of his matches. But that's not all. The longer Whitaker was coach, the better the Steeler record got.

During his last four years at North, the Stealers' record was 74-3-3 and in the last two seasons the 50-year-old led his mat squad to two Gateway East Conferences championships, two regional championships, a sectional championship and a championship in the Granite City South Holiday Wrestling Tournament. Those championships were nearly tucked away while the Stealers simultaneously put together a 4-0 record.

He has also coached three high school All-Americans, two NCAA Division I athletes and now three Junior College Americans, the latest two being the Stars' Lupardus and Tiemann.

Whitaker, who has been with the Granite City Wrestling Club for 23 years, will remain a physical education teacher at Granite City High School. He's currently assisting members of the Warrior track team with weight training. The GCC position, incidentally, is only part-time.

Prior to his 10-stint at Granite City North, Whitaker was the assistant wrestling coach at Granite City High School. A 1951 graduate of the GCCS, Whitaker represented the Warriors on the mats all four years in high school.

AS A SENIOR, he was captain of the Warrior grappler squad under first-year coach Bill Schmitt. After college, he accepted a wrestling coaching job at Cahokia High School in 1960 and coached the Comanches for three years before he was offered the assistant coaching job under Schmitt, a position he held until North opened in 1973.

Whitaker and his wife, Judy, have two children, Kristy, a sophomore at Southeast Missouri State University and Mark, a junior at Granite City High School.

Warriors take on Chicago-Marist today for first game of the season

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

With the announcement of a clear weather forecast slated for Tuesday and Friday, it appears a least a couple of Granite City High School's sports teams may at last see action in an attempt to play.

This afternoon, the Warrior baseball team, it seems, will see its first action of the season as Chicago-Marist travels south to take on Bob Stegemeyer's charges, Marist, an all boys' Catholic high school, annual makes a trip south early in the season in an attempt to find the spring-like weather outside of the Windy City.

IRONICALLY though, things have not been much better in the southland as the Warriors have yet to take the field and thus far have postponed its first five scheduled games. "The Warriors' inability to play has hampered the development of the local burlers, but as eager as anyone is to play is Coach Stegemeyer."

"The kids appear to be dealing with the cancellations thus far better than I am," Stegemeyer said. "This is very frustrating not being able to play, although so far we've been able to reschedule everything and haven't lost (been unable to reschedule) a game yet."

The Warrior coach called this the worst season for rainouts he can remember.

WHILE the Warriors host the Redskins today at 4 p.m., it appears Marist also scheduled a game with Collinsville on Friday, but due to poor field conditions at Collinsville's Fletcher Field, the Kahoks may be hosting the Redskins at GCC's Varsity Field on Saturday.

The Warriors, meanwhile, are slated to meet Reavis-Burbank in a double-header on Friday at 4 p.m. at Varsity Field.

The Warrior track team is also slated for action this afternoon if Mother Nature cooperates. Wednesday's dual track meet with Edwardsville High at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has been rescheduled for today at 3:30 p.m. For the Warriors, it will be their first meet since they attempted the Hazelwood East Invitational Track Meet last Saturday and then again on Monday. The continuance of that 12-team meet has been slated for the first week in May.

IN OTHER action, the Warrior tennis team has rescheduled its matchup with Belleville East for April 6 in Belleville.

The Warriors were slated to meet the Lancers last Saturday but that, like so many other events this spring, was rained out. An attempt to get the pairing in Monday was also washed out, but hopefully Coach Rich Harmon's group will be able to get in their first pairing of the season this Monday, April 2, as they host Gateway East Conference rival Cahokia at 4 p.m.

Wednesday's GCCS softball game with O'Fallon in Granite City has yet to be rescheduled, but the Warriors have added a four-team tournament, to their schedule on April 14. The girls will travel to Rosary High in St. Louis for the tourney which begins at 10 a.m.

The Cardinals remained in St. Louis, and under Busch's leadership went on to capture three World Championship titles in 1964, 1967 and 1982.

On April 15

Cardinals celebrate Busch's birthday

ST. LOUIS — St. Louis baseball fans, dignitaries and elected officials have been invited to join with the St. Louis Cardinals for "Gussie Busch Day" April 15 at Busch Stadium, honoring August A. Busch Jr., on the celebration of his 85th birthday.

Prior to the 1:15 p.m. game between the Cardinals and the Pittsburgh Pirates, Busch, chairman and president of the Cardinals and honorary chairman of Anheuser-Busch Companies, Inc., will be honored for his recent birthday and recognized for his 31 years of Cardinal leadership.

Every fan attending the game in person will receive a read plastic replica of the famous "Gussie Busch Cardinal Cowboy hat," compliments of Busch.

"The Cardinal Cowboy Hats are Mr. Busch's way of saying thanks to St. Louis Cardinals fans for their support of the team through the years," McDonald said.

In 1953, Busch learned that the owners of the Cardinals were contemplating moving the franchise from St. Louis. Busch was strongly opposed to such a move, and subsequently negotiated the purchase of the Cardinals by Anheuser-Busch, Inc.

The Cardinals remained in St. Louis, and under Busch's leadership went on to capture three World Championship titles in 1964, 1967 and 1982.

Both Boys And Girls

Madison tracksters appear to be tops again

By CHARLIE SKAER

of the Press-Record

MADISON — The Madison High School track team will be back this season with five of the six boys who ran in the 400- and 800-meter relay teams that qualified for the state meet last year, along with the girl who finished fourth statewide in the 100-meter low hurdles.

Although neither boys' team placed in state competition, Madison boys' coach Charlie Skaper believes their experience will be a big asset this year — not only in the relays, but in individual events as well. Seniors George Leonard and Shawn Brown will be back from both relay teams last year, junior Russell Porter and Leroy Latham will be returning from the 400-meter relay team and senior Santos Howard will be returning from the 800-meter relay team. The only person missing will be 1983 graduate Derrick Jackson on the 800 relay.

On the girls' team, senior Regina Banks will be returning after having finished fourth statewide in the 100-meter low hurdles and participating in the 200-meter low hurdles, 800- and 1600-meter relays. As for Banks' opportunities this year, girls' coach Luvena Long says her results will be limited only by her individual efforts.

"It depends on Regina," said Long. "Regina can be as good as she wants to be."

The Madison boys' team has finished in first place twice this season — Tuesday in a home meet against Wesclin, Lebanon and St. Paul, and Monday at Dupu, a meet that also featured Freeburg, Breese Central and Marissa. The girls' team also finished first Tuesday at the home meet.

THE BOYS finished third at Highland March 22, losing to Class AA schools Jerseyville and Mascoutah. In their first meet of the season March 3, the boys finished seventh of 28 teams at Charleston.

"Both relay teams are back essentially, with the 400-meter back completely," said Skaper. "We should be strong. I may change them around, though."

The coach has already done some switching on the 800-meter team. Brown is still running in the relay this year, along with 800-meter newcomers Porter, junior Brian

Brown and sophomore Terence Hicks.

Leonard, absent from the 800-meter relay, finished first Tuesday and Monday in the 300-meter low hurdles. Howard, also absent from the 800-meter relay, finished first Tuesday and Monday in the 400-meter dash.

RETURNING on the girls' team is junior Jovana Dillon, who ran on the 400- and 800-meter relay teams, and sophomore Antonette Compton, who anchored the 1600-meter relay. Another returner is junior Cherri Ware, who will likely be running the first leg in the 800-meter relay. Junior Gina Griggs, who ran track her freshman year but sat out last year, will be "running strong" in the 1600 and 800 meter events, according to Long.

On the boys' team, a senior to keep an eye on this year is Zemy Ransom, who finished third Tuesday in the 400 meter run and second Monday in the 800 meter run. Ransom also runs on the 1600- and 3200-meter relay teams.

Junior Steve Ball will also be a top contender, finishing first in the 800-meter run Tuesday. Sophomores Delarion Young, Terence Hicks and Reggie Young should likely be adding points to Madison's team score, too.

MADISON's weakest area will likely be the long distances, although Skaper pointed out that freshman Steve Romanic has shown some promise.

Romanic finished fifth in the 3200-meter run Monday and sixth March 22 at Highland.

In the field events, senior Tony Baker, juniors Leroy Latham and Reggie Banks and sophomore Lonzo Nelson will be the top contenders in the long jump and triple jump. Russell Porter will be throwing the shot and Douglas Robertson will be throwing the discus.

Crader: Looking for good season

By CHARLIE SKAER

of the Press-Record

MADISON — Most coaches are overly optimistic when asked for predictions about the upcoming season.

"Sure it's going to be a rebuilding year," says the coach who lost all of his starters due to graduation. "But don't count us out just yet."

Instead, coaches long for the year when a majority of starters return for another season. Then they can honestly boast about successful possibilities.

WILE the Madison Trojans have six returning starters on the field and several returning pitchers this year, Madison coach Ron Crader isn't sinking into the stereotype role of spouting out words about a state-bound halcyon.

"We're looking for a good season, 500 or better," said Crader.

Hardly the words of an overly-optimistic coach. But coming from the Madison coach, those words are quite optimistic.

You see, Madison hasn't fared well in recent years in baseball. The small school has performed excellent in basketball, where there must be five guys on the court, and in track, where individual performances are most important. However, the school hasn't been able to put together nine guys — all of top quality — to hand many losses to the competitors.

CRADER wasn't kidding when he said last year's 5-10 record was the best the school has had in years. The team even won their first game in the regional playoffs, helped by a triple play turned by returning sophomore Darnell Marshall. With men on first and second, the second baseman leaped for a line drive for number one, landed on second for the second out, and threw to first for another force out.

"It's the only triple play I've ever seen in my life," said Crader. "It was great."

More often than not, however, things were not as climatic. Crader hopes last year's "rebuilding season" will help turn this year's into a winning one.

Or at least one with a 500 mark.

RESIDES Marshall, returning starters will be first baseman Victor Valentin, pitcher and center fielder Fred Smith, third baseman Jim Smith, pitcher and left fielder Patrick Wilson, and center John Brawley. Nathan Young will be in right field and Chris Noud will likely be at shortstop to round out the lineup.

Also expected to see action are senior John Jackson, sophomore Patrick Glasper and junior Mark Succarotte.

"We hope the combined maturity of the whole team will see us through," said Crader.

BECAUSE of the rainy season, the Trojans have had to reschedule games so that there will be five contests in five school days — starting with Friday's game against Alto, followed by a game Monday with Roxana, Tuesday with Lovejoy, Wednesday with East St. Louis and Thursday with Dupu.

"It'll be a good indication of our season," said center fielder Smith. "We're playing a wide range of talent."

"Look at the bright side, coach. All five games are at home."

Wilkerson is SIUC alumni speaker

ST. LOUIS — Popular KMOX sports personality Bill Wilkerson will be guest speaker at the spring meeting of the St. Louis Area Alumni Chapter of Southern Illinois University-Carbondale, April 12 at the Gateway Hotel in downtown St. Louis.

Wilkerson, a 1968 SIUC graduate, will introduce Ray Dorr, SIUC's new head football coach, and his staff.

Dorr, a former University of Washington assistant head coach, was named SIUC head coach Jan. 6. He succeeded Rye Dempsey, who led the 1963 Salukis to the NCAA Division I-AA National Championship and then took the head coaching position at Memphis State University.

The 42-year-old Dorr spent 13 years as a key assistant at Washington and at Kent State. Washington made five bowl appearances during the last six years, including two at the Rose Bowl.

Other well-known SIUC alumni from St. Louis who will attend include Jim Hart, National Football League great, and Ivory Crockett, once billed as "the world's fastest human."

A 6:30 p.m. social hour will be followed by dinner at 7 p.m. in the Gateway Hotel's Summit-Terrace Room. Cost is $10 per person.

Checks (payable to SIUC Alumni, St. Louis Chapter) should be sent by April 7 to Robert Hardcastle, 16100 Chesterfield Village Parkway, Suite 310, Chesterfield, MO 63017.

"All SIUC alumni, their families, friends and the general public are invited to attend."

As Tennis Season Begins Trojans looking for brighter future

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER

Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

MADISON — Tennis is not a sport that Madison High School excels in. In fact, last year the inexperienced Trojans finished the season 0-10, but things may be different this year, says Trojan coach Terry Beer.

"This year we have the luxury of a few people returning from last year, and that should help," Beer said. "I think we've definitely got the athletes who are capable of beating a couple of teams. I'll be very disappointed if we don't win at least one match this year."

IN ALL, the Trojans have five players returning from last year's squad. Among them are first and second singles players Theron Brown, a junior, and Chandler Taylor, a sophomore.

Others returning to the squad are Dicran Arnold, a senior, and William Blake and Darryl Shipp, both juniors.

Newcomers include Lamont Johnson, a senior, Antonio Jackson, a sophomore, and freshmen Lester Buckles and Eric Ingram. LaShawn Vauters will be the team manager this year.

Beer said he was confident that his first and second singles players would win their share of matches, but playing the 2-3 (two singles teams and three doubles) format. It will take more than just the singles victories.

BEHIND Brown and Taylor at first and second singles, the Trojans' doubles teams tentatively consist of Arnold and Blake at first doubles, Shipp and Johnson at second doubles and Buckles and Ingram at third doubles.

Unlike many high school teams, Beer said, he does not plan to utilize his singles players in doubles action. This, Beer said, gives all the athletes a chance to play and develop their games.

The Trojans' 1984 season consists of eight games and, realistically, is divided into two different parts. Playing a home and home schedule, the first four games of the Trojans' season are at home with the latter half of season all away.

MADISON will open its season Tuesday, April 3, as they host Waterloo High School and three days later hosts Waterloo Gibault. These are the pairings, Beer says, which will be crucial to the outcome of the Trojans' season.

"Basically, if we can win early and start believing in ourselves, believe we can win, we may surprise some people. To do that we've all got to pull together and win our doubles matches," Beer said.

For that reason the Trojans have been spending little time outside working on its doubles teams, specifically net play and working the lobs.

"Usually we do as we are there, working on our doubles teams. Last year we had quite a bit of trouble with our lobs, hitting them long, out of bounds. It's one of the better, most effective shots," Beer said.

ONE PROBLEM the Trojan netters are not having thus far is serving. "I am hitting well, Beer said.

Beer is hopeful that if the Trojans can win a couple of pairings this year it will spark further interest in tennis in Madison, but he realizes that may be an uphill battle.

"We don't have anybody who plays in the off-season, and that really makes a difference," Beer said. "I am, however, pleased with the progress we've made thus far."

The three-year Trojan coach said he began squad practices earlier this year, hitting off the walls in the gymnasium, and that seemed to help.

"All our guys are good athletes and they all have the ability and desire to win. I'm just hoping I can transform that ability and desire into victories."

Kirgan leads NAS mat team

Allen P. Kirgan, BT3 currently stationed at Millington Naval Air Station in Millington, Tenn. and a Granite City High School North graduate is coaching the NAS wrestling team.

Kirgan, incidentally, who wrestles as well as coaches for the team, was the Navy team's sole winner in a recent pairing against the Blytheville, Ark., Air Force team.

Earlier this month, on March 5 and 6, in Pensacola, Fla., Kirgan won the 198-pound heavyweight freestyle and Greco style. He was named to the All-Navy Wrestling Team and given first-place certificates in both styles.

More recently, March 12-15, in West Point, N.Y., in an inter-service tournament, he was placed into the 220-pound class and received a bronze medal for his third-place finish.

Kirgan is currently assigned to the recreation department at Millington NAS. He, his wife, (JoAnn Ortiz) and son George live in suburban Frazier in Memphis.

Kirgan's son, George, is named after the late George Nemeth, the former Steeler wrestling coach.

Nelson's softball registration

Lord Nelson's Sports Complex is still accepting teams for the slow-pitch softball summer league. It's accepting men's, ladies' or co-ed teams.

Play will start April 30 with playoffs beginning Aug. 28. ASA rules will be used.

A meeting will be scheduled later at which time schedules will be given out.

Leagues are being formed for any night of the week. For information, persons should call 931-6338.

Venice Rec. seeks softball participants

Venice Park District Superintendent Robert Wigfall has announced that the district is seeking men and women who are interested in participating in its summer softball leagues.

According to Wigfall, the leagues are not restricted to Venice residents alone. All Quad-Cityans wishing to participate in the summer league are welcome, Wigfall said.

The slow-pitch league which will play at Lee Park, will begin in May. Persons interested in participating should contact Wigfall at the Venice Recreation Department at 877-3152 or 876-6599 at home.

Members and guests enjoyed a corn beef and cabbage dinner on St. Patrick's Day prepared by Amvets Post 51 member Ben Sanders and auxiliary members, as well as auxiliary president, Glenda Brockman, helped with serving the dinner and the cleanup.

Prior to this event, President Brockman presided at a regular meeting of the auxiliary. Chaplain Betty Clements read the opening prayer which was followed by the pledge of allegiance led by Sergeant-at-Arms Betty Wilkins.

Secretary Charlotte Torregrossa recorded the roll call of officers and then read the previous minutes. Treasurer Brenda White also gave her report of the auxiliary's finances.

In the reading of correspondence, Mrs. Torregrossa read a letter of thanks from John Cochran, V.A. Medical Center for a $25 donation for canteen coupon books which were distributed to the patients on "Salute to Hospitalized Veterans Day."

A letter of thanks was also received from the Dream Factory for a $25 donation as well as a letter from city clerk, Robert Stevens, reporting that the auxiliary has permission to hold a Memorial Day Parade and Service at the City Hall.

Vice President, Jenny Kidwell, reviewed the Auxiliary's Community Service program and announced that she will purchase two ceiling fans that the auxiliary will donate to the Madison County Sheltered Care Home in a formal presentation during the next ice cream social project given for the residents of the Sheltered Care Home.

Chaplain Betty Clements said she sent several get well cards, and Alberta Manninger, hospital chairman, announced an arts and crafts day at John Cochran and March 26th, is the date set for the monthly party for the hospitalized patients at John Cochran. Mrs. Manninger also gave Ann Tucker's hours as a volunteer at St. Elizabeth Medical Center which now total over 1672 hours, and stated she had received a letter of thanks from an Amvets Post 51 member who is now a resident of the Illinois Veterans Home in Quincy, for a box of assorted toiletry items, clothing, stationery, etc. that he intends to distribute to many of his fellow residents.

Americanism and S.O.S. Officer Betty Wilkins said she will be making her monthly trip to the U.S.O. at Lambert Field to make a donation of assorted boxes of cups or soup. She also mentioned the $30, the amount received from a bakeless bake sale, will be sent to state for the "Statue of Liberty Fund." The fund is a special project of the auxiliary to help with the cost of repairing and cleaning the statue.

Brenda White, ways and means chairman, displayed brochures of scented velvet and lace picture frames as a possible auxiliary money fund raising project. Junior Amvets advisor, Alberta Manninger, announced that the group voted to purchase toys and games for the pediatric floor at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. Sackette Snappiest, Barbara Siebert, reminded the Sackette members of the next Sackette family day. Members were asked to bring covered dishes to accompany the baked ham which will be furnished with Sackette funds.

V.A.V.S. Associate Representative, Ann Tucker, announced the Amvets Because We Care Day will be held at John Cochran on April 4th at 7 p.m., and said volunteers would be needed to help with wheelchair patients and serve refreshments and distribute gifts. Mrs. Tucker also noted that entertainment will be provided for the patients by Sergeant Apperson who will perform feats of magic, the Amvets and auxiliary square dancers, and a barbershop group.

Upcoming events given by President Brockman was the auxiliary Good Friday fish fry on April 20th. Parliamentarian Betty Clements read the by-law revisions that will be sent to state for approval of the Department Parliamentarian.

Area homemakers attend 60th anniversary meeting

Thirty-seven Madison County HEA members were among nearly 1,040 Illinois homemakers gathered on the University of Illinois campus this month for the IHEF annual conference, consisting of the annual business meeting, Elsie Mies Banquet, outstanding speakers, awards and learning sessions.

"60 Years of Learning" was the theme for the three-day conference. IHEF President, Rose Keith of Oglesby, called the annual business meeting to order in the hall of Krannert Center. There was a parade of county banners, after which some of the banners were placed in stands and served as background for all sessions in the Great Hall. The remaining banners were placed in the lobby of the center.

The Tuesday evening session featured speakers and presentations and following this Dr. Elizabeth Ann Drake presented a historical review of apparel worn during the "roaring 20's" which was the time the state organization was founded.

Keynote speaker for the Wednesday afternoon general session was Wanda S. Fritz, president of Wellness Systems, Inc., Gaithersburg Md. Her presentation was entitled "Who Cares for the Caregivers?"

The Illinois Union was the setting for the Elsie Mies banquet on Wednesday evening, with the Chancellors Ladies Quartette from Kankakee, Ill. providing the entertainment. Oak seedlings were passed out as everyone was leaving at the conclusion of the banquet.

In addition, U of I Cooperative specialists and resident staff conducted classes for participants on Wednesday and Thursday mornings. Class topics included: Managing Stress: Yours and Theirs; Preparing for Widowhood: A Legal Perspective; How's Your TMQ? Time Management Quotient; Household Insect Control; Living Well With Less; Investing in Today's Economy; Grain Marketing; Housing Trends in the Future: Colors and Interiors — Facts, Fashion, Future; Perennial Flower Gardening; Family Support Systems; Photography; All About Us and Microcomputer Choices.

Other sessions focused on Drugs and Food — A Troublesome Twosome; Food: Borne Illness, Vitamins; Weight Control; The Diet and Cancer Connection and Fitness With Fun.

HEA officers and directors exchanged ideas during "share shops" on Wednesday morning. Topics included Directions for the Future; My Time Is Your Time; Membership: We Can Grow With Your Help; Tools of the Trade; Public Information; International; Citizenship; Community Outreach and Safety; Cultural Arts, Textiles and Clothing; Family Relationships; Health, Foods and Nutrition and Program Development for Young Homemakers.

Illinois Homemakers aid support fund

A check in the amount of $11,765 was presented to Dr. Lawrence O'Reilly, assistant director, Cooperative Extension Service, from members of the Illinois Homemakers Extension Federation during their annual meeting, this month in the Krannert Center at the University of Illinois, Urbana. Along with the check, Mrs. George Keith, president of IHEF presented a record book containing the names of all the contributors to this 60th anniversary gift.

This gift was the culmination of contributions made towards the Homemakers Extension Support Fund, in recognition of the IHEF 60th Anniversary, celebrated at the annual conference March 13, 14 and 15.

Members of Madison County Homemakers Extension Units gave a total of $346 towards the principal of this University of Illinois Foundation Support Fund.

The Support Fund was started by IHEF in 1977 with a sizable contribution. Since then the funds has become an open-ended fund whereby homemakers and friends may make contributions and help establish a financial support for programs provided by Cooperative Extension Service in Home Economics. Interest from this basic fund is used to prepare educational materials for Homemakers Extension Federation members. Research and program materials, paid for with income from the program, have covered the following: time management; family living; personal home computers; parenting and child development and computer software of stain removal.

Future contributions for the Support Fund may be made in any amount to: University of Illinois Foundation, c/o Homemakers Extension Support Fund, 224 Illinois Union, Urbana, Illinois, 61801, according to Mrs. Keith.

Eagles Auxiliary state president attends local weekend programs

Betty Rohn, Eagles Auxiliary State President, from Quincy Auxiliary No. 535, visited the Granite City Eagles Home, 2550 Madison Ave. during the weekend. She was accompanied by Alberta Means, Quincy past president, her traveling companion throughout the State of Illinois for the year 1983-84.

On Saturday evening a potluck dinner was held in her honor, with Harold Love, Aerie vice president, offering the prayer.

After the dinner the Eaglesire Kitchen Band entertained with music and skits. Band members present were Marge Kendell, Phyllis Seka, Angie Buehler, Kathryn Clark, Eileen Rickert, Emma Fortell, Ginger Staggs, Vincene Zerlan, Florence Hagnauer, Nancy Mullen, Mickey Patton and Mary Havelin, all members of the local auxiliary.

A Sunday morning breakfast was prepared and served by the Aerie members, and held at the hall for the guests and for Aerie and auxiliary members.

A meeting was held at noon with Gladys Freeman, local auxiliary president presiding. It was then turned over to the District 8 1983 state champion ritual team, consisting of Ada Russell, junior past president (Alton); Lucille Smith, president (Alton); Judy Hoffert, vice president (Shiloh); Millie Weatherford, chaplain (Shiloh); Angie Buehler, conductor (Granite City); and Grace Gasperine, pianist (Collinsville).

The guests of honor were escorted into the meeting hall by the local escort team, including Angie Buehler, leader; Helen Lipchik, Ann Konopka, Florence Hagnauer, Connie Odum, Yvonne Gray, JoAnn Aubuchon, Vincene Zerlan, Kathy Barnhart, Mickey Patton and Janie Melson. They were dressed in green and white, the state president's colors, and they carried long green and white gladiolas to make an arch for the guests. Each state officer was introduced at the altar and presented with a green and white corsage by Angie Buehler, and then escorted to a seat reserved for them. After the meeting the gladiolas were presented to the state president.

The ritual team initiated nine new members, as follows: Gloria Piper, Arline White, Emily Jones, Vivian Dix, Dolores Wolfe, Martha Ryan, Carmen Toth, Shelly Thompson and Shirley Younger, all members of the local auxiliary.

Other state officers and chairmen attending are Eleanor Everingham, state heart and Diabetes Fund chairman (Herrin 1949); Kathy Dulles, state trustee and Cancer and Kidney Fund chairman (Shiloh 545); Evelyn Sweeney, state treasurer (Wood River 2773); and Doris Yost, state trustee and Educational Fund chairman (Alton 294).

Mrs. Rohn was the guest speaker and congratulated the local auxiliary who has quadrupled its yearly membership quota so far. The Illinois auxiliary quota for the year is 2000. She reported that a new Effingham auxiliary was being instituted that day with 38 new members, so the state should reach its yearly quota. She commended the good cooperation between the local Aerie and the Auxiliary, and concluded her speech with a poem. Other state officers also spoke on various subjects of interest.

Helen Frazier, local auxiliary secretary, reported that the family of Francis Steinman, former auxiliary state president and local past president, donated $100 to the Golden Eagle Fund in her memory.

Luncheon was served after the meeting by members of the auxiliary at tables decorated with green and white flowers, and small books signifying "Sailing Down the Rivers with Betty," which is her theme this year. The decorating committee were of Yvonne Gray, JoAnn Aubuchon and Florence Hagnauer.

As an evangelist, he has conducted over 250 evangelistic crusades in several states through the Midwest. His goal in each crusade is to assist the pastor in deepening the spiritual life of the church, and win new converts to Christ.

Son-Life Christian School registration open to public

Son-Life Christian School, 1203 Vandalla St., Collinsville, announces registration for the 1984-85 school year is now open to the public.

Son-Life Christian School is a ministry of Son-Life Fellowship, a non-denominational, Bible teaching church. The school uses the A Beka program which consists of a carefully planned pre-school through high school curriculum that emphasizes Christian character as well as a solid foundation in basic skills such as reading, writing, and arithmetic. The Bible is a required subject. Son-Life believes without a working knowledge of the Bible, a student is not truly educated.

The teachers at Son-Life have at least a bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university and previous experience. All grades from three year old pre-school to 12th grade have fully equipped classrooms with plenty of chairs, desks, bulletin boards, etc., as well as a fully equipped science, chemistry, and biology lab. Art and music programs are offered to students of all ages.

Students eat in a full sized cafeteria and enjoy individual lockers for their coats and books. A full sized gym complete with locker rooms as well as a large track and soccer field enables Son-Life students to offer a complete sports and athletics program.

A registration fee of $35 for three and four year old pre-school and $45 for kindergarten through high school, is required for each student. Any child registering prior to April 30th will receive a $10 discount, the school officials explained.

For further information, call the school office at 345-4224, they added.

Church of God denomination reports membership growth

The Rev. Tom Edwards pastor of the Church of God, 1205 W. Pontoon Road, reports that the Church of God denomination, with headquarters in Cleveland, Tenn., is one of the fastest growing churches in America. The latest church membership figures, reported in the Yearbook of American and Canadian Churches, indicate the Church of God grew 5.01 percent in membership, one of the highest annual growth rates among all denominations.

"The local church," states Pastor Edwards, "has been a part of the denominational growth pattern. In worship services, Sunday school, family training hours, and finances. Several programs have been instituted recently that are designed to support an emphasis on quality community life."

The Church of God is the first Pentecostal denomination in America. It was founded in 1886 by a small group who had become disenchanted because of coldness and conformity in the religious life of their community. The objectives of the new church were to restore Bible-centered preaching, to encourage deeper consecration, and to promote evangelism and Christian service. From this small beginning the Church of God now ministers in 134 countries and territories, with 13,869 churches, and 1,466,748 members, the local minister explained.

At the annual meeting of the Pentecostal Fellowship of North America (PFNA) conducted in Des Moines, Iowa, Dr. E. C. Thomas, general overseer of the Church of God, was elected chairman for the fellowship. The purpose of the fellowship is to provide a vehicle of expression and coordination of efforts in matters common to all member bodies, including missionary and evangelistic efforts throughout the world. It has been estimated that 10 million persons around the world experience the Holy Spirit baptism each year, Rev. Edwards added.

Debbie Popovchak, 25, of Pontoon Beach, will travel to New York, N.Y., this weekend with the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra and Chorus, where they will give a performance at Carnegie Hall.

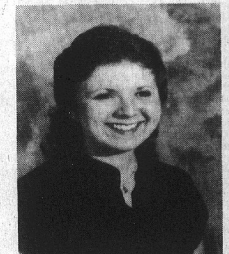

Miss Popovchak and the chorus group will sing "Harmonium" by John Adams and "Nem" by Johannes Brahms. The singing group is directed by Thomas Peck.

This is Miss Popovchak's first season singing with the St. Louis Symphony Chorus. The group of more than 100 singers usually performs only at Powell Symphony Hall, so this trip to New York is unique.

Miss Popovchak graduated from Granite City High School North, where she participated in the chorus. She went on to study music education at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, under the direction of Marian Whitehead. She graduated from the university with a degree in music education, the emphasis being in voice.

Miss Popovchak hopes that her experiences with the symphony chorus will boost her into a career in music. She is the daughter of William and Clara Popovchak, of Granite City.

Electronic music performed at BAC

Electronic music will fill the air at Belleville Area College from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Tuesday, April 3.

Duane Decker, a computer synthesist, uses a sophisticated, state-of-the-art keyboard system to achieve the sound of a four-piece band. His system includes digital drum machine, a digital sequencer and two synthesizers. He will perform in the first-floor lounge.

BAC includes his original compositions, as well as songs by Duran Duran, the Beatles, Men at Work and Hall & Oates.

Each song takes an average of 20 hours of programming, arranging and rehearsal before it's ready to perform. The first step in the process involves programming the drum machine, measure by measure. The bass and two keyboards parts are then programmed into the sequencer, which interfaces with the drum machine.

Next, the live keyboard part is rehearsed. This keyboard's sound may be instantaneously varied at the touch of a foot switch. Live vocal parts complete each song.

FILE A CONDUCT CHARGE AGAINST FORMER FRIEND

Gregory F. Grooms, 24, of 2714 Nameoki Road, was charged with disorderly conduct early Monday, after he allegedly persisted in knocking and banging on the door of Donna Lannum, 2560 Parkway Drive, a former friend, and made telephone calls to her apartment for an extended period of time.

Cable program focuses on 4-H groups in county

In an effort to raise public awareness about the diversity of 4-H activities for both youth and adult participants, the Illinois 4-H Foundation and the National 4-H Council are co-sponsoring a television program entitled "4-H Is More."

"4-H is more than just projects, cows and chickens. 4-H is more than you might expect. To find out how much 'more' can mean, don't miss the local TV airing of '4-H Is More,'" says University of Illinois Youth Extension Adviser, Shirley Mills.

The 30-minute program will be aired at 4:30 p.m. Saturday, March 31, immediately after the Fighting Illini basketball game, by WGN, cable channel 19. The Chicago station is a member of the Illinois cable franchises and will be on South Western Cable.

Featured in the film are several from Madison County including Dorothy Wentz, 4-H leader for 33 years of Marine 4-H Club, and Cindy Voyles, Jerry Jarrell, Marcie Bryant, Chris Stajhar and Becky Chandler, 4-H members from Marine. Eileen ("Ike") Mantoni, from Edwardsville, and Keith Mills, Glen Carbon, both former 4-H members, whose lives were influenced by 4-H, also are in the movie.

4-H helps develop responsibility in young members as they care for dogs, cats and other animals or take part in community service projects. Similarly, the young adult 4-H leader gets a dose of responsibility training through projects requiring that he or she keep members ranging in age from 8 to 18 involved in constructive activities, as well as training in working with people.

In addition, 4-H helps instill self-confidence in members and volunteers by encouraging and rewarding them for doing things they otherwise might be afraid to try. For example, public speaking and livestock judging contests as well as food demonstration projects encourage members to learn to speak in front of groups and articulate ideas. Learning to make decisions is a skill 4-Hers learn by participating in club work and judging contests.

More information about getting involved in 4-H in Madison County, either as a member or volunteer leader, is available from Shirley Mills at the Madison County Extension office, Edwardsville, or by calling 1-656-8400.

Green Grass Cloggers to perform dances at SIUE

The Madison County Arts Council will present a single performance of the Green Grass Cloggers on Friday, April 6th at 12:30 p.m. in the Meridian Ballroom of the University Center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. This performance is open to the public.

Since their beginning in 1971, the Green Grass Cloggers have revolutionized group clogging by combining traditional Southern Appalachian mountain dancing with innovative high stepping. Clogging is a form of dancing that is a blend of the dances brought to America by the early settlers of the Southeast. Influences can be traced to the Irish, English, European, African and Native American cultures.

THE GREEN GRASS Cloggers perform the dance with two, four, six or eight dancers moving in patterns. The figures come from Western square dancing, Appalachian circle dances and some figures choreographed by the Green Grass Cloggers themselves. A "freestyle" routine is also performed in which each dancer is able to demonstrate his own favorite step.

The Green Grass Cloggers have

performed at almost every major folk and bluegrass festival in the U. S. Highlights of their career include performances at Carnegie Hall, the Lincoln Center, the Winter Olympics, an Emmy Award winning CBS special on dance with Julie Andrews and Rudolf Nureyev and the 1982 World's Fair. Foreign tours include Canada, Scandinavia and Spain.

They continue to teach steps and have planted the seed for countless clogging groups throughout the country. It was added.

DANCERS IN the group include Roxanna McMillan, Mark Freese, Cherie Sheppard, Phil Jamison, Andy Deaver, Gordy Hinkers and Tricia Cook. Live music for the dancers will be provided by Lewis and Donna Lamb, a father-daughter team that plays bluegrass in a fast style.

GO WITH EXPERIENCE...

WE'RE CELEBRATING OUR 27th YEAR...

America's Oldest Lawn Spray Company...

We know, as all agronomists know, that the secret to beautiful grass is properly scheduled applications of fertilizer, weed killers to control both grass types (crabgrass) and broadleaf (dandelions-chickweed) weeds and insecticide to control webworms, chinch bugs, etc.

Included in our spray program are applications of SLOW RELEASE NITROGEN that NEVER STOPS FEEDING as long as grass is growing and actually slows down it's feeding during periods of low rainfall when it's not needed. If your lawn isn't receiving applications of SLOW RELEASE NITROGEN you're not getting your money's worth.

... THE GREEN LAWN PLAN provides five sprays — early Spring, late Spring, Summer, late Summer, and Fall. It supplies fertilizers just when your lawn needs them. Five broadleaf weed sprays to control dandelion, chickweed, buckhorn, plantain, spurge... Those weeds that seem never to stop coming up from early Spring to late Fall. Crabgrass control in the Spring and insecticide applications in the Summer.

OUR PLAN INCLUDES GRUB CONTROL WITH OFTANOL, THE ONLY CHEMICAL THAT REALLY CONTROLS GRUB.

If some Fall weeds come up after our last weed killer is applied — CALL US — We will apply a 1/6 Spray — FREE!

OUR PROGRAM CONTINUES YEAR AFTER YEAR — REQUIRES NO CONTRACT AND PROVIDES FOR PAYMENT BY MAIL AFTER EACH APPLICATION FOR AS LONG AS YOU DESIRE AFTER THE FIRST 5 APPLICATIONS. (5% Discount For Pre-Payment.)

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

The Law and You

Often when a husband and wife are contemplating divorce, they don't know what procedure to follow. Possibly the first step to be taken is to explore the feasibility of pursuing marriage counseling. Often parties can be reconciled and marriages can be saved if the individuals will only take the time to seek counseling together. If the marriage cannot be saved, perhaps the next step is to consult with an attorney.

Some decisions that need to be made at the time of the initial consultation include who will get custody of the children, how much visitation the opposing party will obtain, the amount of home, and how the personal property and bills will be divided. If the husband and wife are in agreement as to all issues, one attorney can prepare documents to be signed by both parties. A non-contested dissolution of this type can normally be finalized in less than one week. If the divorce becomes contested, on the other hand, it will normally take six to eight weeks to complete.

If the dissolution of marriage is to be handled on a non-contested basis, the parties will need to sign a separation agreement. This agreement is in effect a contract between the husband and wife which spells out the rights and duties of both the parties. One question that often arises with these agreements is whether the Court acting on its own can modify the parties' separation agreement. Another question is whether the husband or wife can have the agreement set aside once it has been signed by both parties. In one recent case, the husband and wife agreed that the child support would be $50 per week. This provision was incorporated in the separation agreement pursuant to a dissolution of marriage. The Judge felt that this amount was insufficient based on the husband's salary and refused to finalize the divorce until the separation agreement provided for more child support. Generally speaking, the Court can modify a separation agreement if it feels the terms of this contract are inequitable. The Court is not bound to accept the agreement of the parties.

Likewise, the husband or wife can have the agreement set aside by the Judge in certain situations. For this to occur, however, one party would probably have to demonstrate that the other spouse misrepresented some important matter or coerced the other into signing it.

The 'Corporate Superstars' competition at the Tri-Cities Area YMCA during the weekend pitted 10 teams in head-to-head battles for recognition as the community 'superstars.' The Granite Sheet Metal team won the overall title, capturing four of the five individual events in this first-ever competition. Other teams participating included Granite City Firefighters, First Granite City National Bank, Charlie's Restaurant, Business and Professional Women's Club, Illinois Power, St. Elizabeth Medical Center, Nestle Co., the 'Kettler Kids' of SEMC and the Granite City Journal.

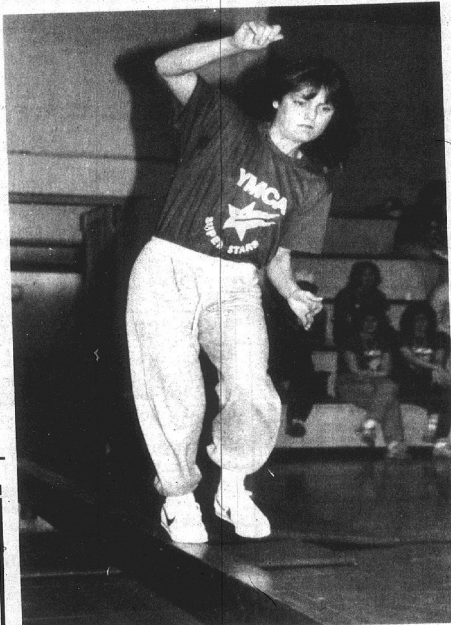

The more than 50 participants gave their all as they competed in events, such as a football relay over a volleyball net, throwing footballs through hanging tires, a water balloon relay, a tire relay race and an obstacle course finale.

BURNING RUBBER. Terry Suhre, an engineer with the Granite City Fire Department, (above) races by resting participants and the enthusiastic audience during the tire race relay.

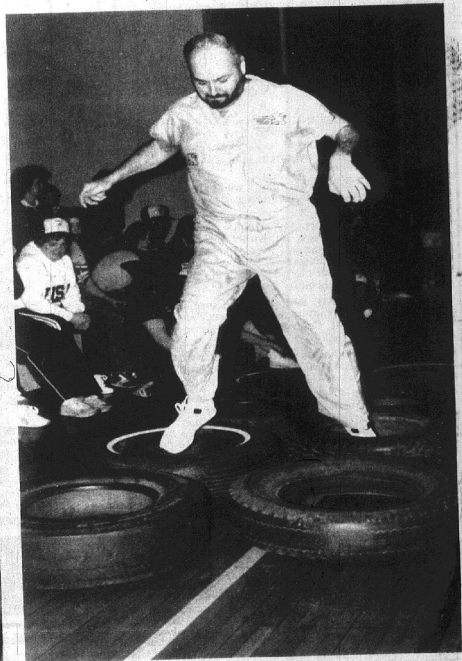

ELECTRIFYING PERFORMANCE. Diane Duncan, an engineering clerk at Illinois Power, (at right) negotiates the balance beam in the obstacle course event.

SAFE OPERATION. Steve Missey, safety director at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, (far right) appropriately dressed in surgeon's green, tiptoes through the tires at the beginning of the obstacle course.

Granite Sheet Metal won all of the events with the exception of the football toss through the tires, which was won by the Granite City Journal. Most of the participants are now eyeing next year's competition with great anticipation.

Applicants sought for diabetes camp

Applications are now being accepted for the 32nd annual session of Camp E.D.I., the summer camp for children with insulin-dependent diabetes, sponsored by the American Diabetes and Greater St. Louis Affiliate. The 1984 session will be held July 28 through Aug. 11 at Trout Lodge, the YMCA facility on Sunken Lake near Potosi, Mo. The two-week session is for children from 8 to 14 years of age.

A four-day camp for younger children will be offered again this year. The Junior Session will run July 28 to Aug. 1. It is intended as a first resident camping experience for children who have completed the first grade, and as a first-year option for new campers 8 and 9 years old.

E.D.I. is an acronym for Exercise, Diet, and Insulin, the cornerstones of therapy for insulin-dependent diabetes. Camp E.D.I. provides a complete medical and dietary education program designed to teach the children how to live with diabetes on a daily basis. The professional staff includes nurses, dietitians, and a camp physician, who is present at all times. The 1984 camp physician will be Dr. Neil H. White, assistant professor of pediatrics at Washington University School of Medicine and a specialist in pediatric endocrinology. Dr. Douglas Rogers will be the Junior Camp Physician this year.

In addition to teaching diabetes survival skills, Camp E.D.I. offers the full spectrum of recreational activities that are a normal part of any camping experience - swimming, boating, sailing, horseback riding, archery, fishing and more. Camp E.D.I. is approved by the American Camping Association.

To assure a reservation, applications should be mailed as soon as possible. First consideration will be given to children who have not previously attended Camp E.D.I.

To receive an application form or for further information, interested persons may contact the Greater St. Louis Affiliate of the American Diabetes Association, 1790 South Brentwood Blvd., St. Louis, Mo., 63144, telephone 1-314-968-3196.

Village trustees adopt anti-obscenity ordinance

An ordinance controlling public indecency and obscenity in Pontoon Beach was adopted by the Pontoon Beach Board of Trustees at its meeting Tuesday night.

Although instances of lewd behavior, such as topless and bottomless dancing, have not been prevalent in the community, the board elected to pass such an ordinance as a preventive measure, according to Trustee Loren Madison.

The trustee said only one incident of the type now prohibited by the ordinance has come to the attention of the board and occurred at a public establishment.

The new ruling applies only to business places and those referred to as of public accommodation, such as taverns.

It does not regulate behavior in private residences, nor restrict dancing by the public.

Failure to abide by the new law could result in a fine of not less than $25 nor more than $500 for each offense.

The Pontoon Beach ordinance was prepared by Village Attorney Robert Hennessey and was adopted on first reading.

It is similar in scope to a statute passed last week by the Granite City Council. However, the Granite City aldermen also adopted an accompanying ordinance requiring businesses serving liquor to pay a $2,500 annual fee if professional dancers entertain at those establishments and to provide the police department with names and addresses of entertainers on a monthly basis and the dates they perform.

The Pontoon Beach statute does not include the latter provisions, Hennessey noted.

In other action, approval was given the appointment of Ben McMillan as administrator of the community's new subdivision ordinance. The post of administrator, as provided in the ordinance, had not yet been filled, Madison noted.

McMillan, village building inspector, will handle all aspects of the subdivision bill, which includes a bonding program for street improvements.

Preliminary road construction has started at the new Timberlake Subdivision, a 65-acre development project of single-family log-type dwellings in the 4700 block of Highway 111, north of Pontoon Road and the First Church of the Nazarene. It was learned.

Approximately 100 log homes eventually will be located in the subdivision. The plans also call for commercial property fronting the highway.

Village President Paul Bennet led a discussion on complaints from some Lakeview residents concerning heavy equipment and trucks moving in and out of the Georgetown area, including one instance of a sewer hookup being severed by a vehicle.

Action on a funding request from the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission was tabled until a future meeting and payment on current bills was authorized.

LODGED IN COUNTY JAIL

Donald R. Lones, 38, of 1928 Adams St. was transferred to the Madison County jail last week after being arrested for disorderly conduct at the St. Elizabeth Medical Center emergency room, where loud and abusive language was alleged.
